

Surface Weather Map Showing Storm System in the Eastern United States

Warm air advection occurs where the wind flows across isotherms from higher pressure (closer to lower-latitude) values. Thus, warm air is being transported across a cold front by the low-level winds. Based on this fact alone, one would expect precipitation at that location to be rising, cold air advection occurs where the wind flows across the isotherms from lower-latitude values to higher-latitude values. Thus, cold air is being transported by the wind to a warm location, producing falling temperatures.

Based on wind directions and the isotherm pattern on the Figure 2 map, determine the type of air advection (warm or cold) that would be occurring at each station.

3. Winds at station two are occurring at Station _____.

- ☐ A
- ☐ B
- ☐ C
- ☐ D

4. Could air advection occur occurring at Station _____.

- ☐ B
- ☐ C
- ☐ D

5. Generalizing from the map depiction of wind and temperature patterns associated with weather systems, what is the most likely weather expected at Station _____.

- ☐ warm
- ☐ cold

6. Most likely, what is the most and significant of Station can be expected to have _____ air advection.

- ☐ warm
- ☐ cold

7. Areas to the east of Station would be expected to have _____ air advection.

- ☐ warm
- ☐ cold

8. And while you choose from that only; weather based on the model of a high, what is the most of higher should have _____ air advection.

- ☐ warm
- ☐ cold
