Ninni Wahlström, Daniel Alvunger, Daniel Sundberg, 2019-12-18 Global processes are transforming educational policy around the world in complex ways with different implications for different local arenas Over the last two decades a global neoliberal policy paradigm has emerged placing the teacher at its centre Two well known examples are the OECD report on education and training policy

Teachers Matter and the McKinsey Company report entitled How the World's Best Performing School Systems Come Out on Top It now seems more important than ever to highlight some alternatives that might contribute to a broader understanding of the meaning of being a teacher In a time of standardised performance and accountability this special issue raises critical questions about the space for teachers agency and teachers as curriculum agents The different articles from some of our most distinguished researchers in the field provide essential perspectives on the question of where when and how teachers matter Our interest is not primarily to understand the scope of teachers agency but rather to understand what becomes important for teachers in their everyday activities such as teaching students handling educational norms and rules working in a local as well as a global society etc A common theme throughout the articles is that teachers matter in spaces where they can act as moral subjects in their profession in the present drawing on collective and individual experiences of the past whilst imagining a desired future This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Curriculum Studies

Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 2013 Education, Law and Diversity Neville Harris, 2020-01-09 This new edition of Education Law and Diversity provides extensive updated analysis from a legal perspective of how the education system responds to social diversity and how the relevant social and cultural rights of individuals and groups are affected It spans wide ranging areas of school provision including types of school including faith schools the school curriculum choice of school out of school settings and duties towards children with special needs and disabilities It gives extensive coverage to children's rights in the context of education and includes considerable new material on issues including relationships and sex education exclusion from school home education equal access counter extremism and academisation The new edition also retains and updates areas of debate in the book such as those concerned with multiculturalism and the position of religion in schools It continues to focus on England but also makes reference to other jurisdictions within the UK and internationally It is essential reading for anyone interested in the legal and related policy issues surrounding children's education today Handbook of College Reading and Study Strategy Research Rona F.
