Plant Glycobiology - a sweet world of lectins, glycoproteins, glycolipids and glycans Els J. M. Van Damme, Nausicaä Lannoo, Cécile Albenne, Elisabeth Jamet, 2015-02-12 Plants synthesize a wide variety of unique glycan structures which play essential roles during the life cycle of the plant Being omnipresent throughout the plant kingdom ranging from simple green algae to modern flowering plants glycans contribute to many diverse processes Glycans can function as structural components in the plant cell wall assist in the folding of nascent proteins act as signaling molecules in plant defense responses or ER stress pathways or serve within the energy metabolism of a plant In most cases glycans are attached to other macromolecules to form so called glycoconjugates e g glycoproteins proteoglycans and glycolipids but they can also be present as free entities residing in the plant cell Next to the broad complex set of glycans plants also evolved an elaborate collection of lectins or proteins with a lectin like domain which can recognize and bind to endogenous plants own or exogenous foreign glycans Though still poorly understood in plants the dynamic interactions between lectins and carbohydrate structures are suggested to be involved in gene transcription protein folding protein transport cell adhesion signaling as well as defense responses As such a complex and largely undetermined glycan interactome is established inside plant cells between cells and their surrounding matrix inside the extracellular matrix and even between organisms Studying the biological roles of plant glycans will enable to better understand plant development and physiology in order to fully exploit plants for food feed and production of pharmaceutical proteins In this Research Topic we want to provide a platform for articles describing the latest research perspectives and methodologies related to the fascinating world of plant glycobiology with a focus on following subjects 1 Identification and characterization of plant glycans their biosynthetic and degradation enzymes 2 Characterization of plant lectins and glycoproteins 3 Plant glycans in the plant s energy metabolism 4 Role of plant glycans in plant defense signaling 5 Use of plant lectins in pest control 6 Plant lectins as new tools in human medicine 7 Glyco engineering in plants in γδ T Cell Biology: New Ligands, New Functions, and New Translational Perspectives Dieter Kabelitz,Julie Dechanet-Merville,2016-02-16 Gamma delta T cells are a small subset of T lymphocytes in the peripheral circulation but constitute a major T cell population at other anatomical localizations such as the epithelial tissues In contrast to conventional T cells the available number of germline genes coding for T cell receptor TCR variable elements of T cells is very small Moreover there is a preferential localization of T cells expressing given Vgamma and Vdelta genes in certain tissues In humans T cells expressing the Vg9Vd2 encoded TCR account for anywhere between 50 and 95% of peripheral blood T cells whereas cells expressing non Vd2 genes dominate in mucosal tissues In mice there is an ordered appearance of T cell waves during embryonic development resulting in preferential localization of T cells expressing distinct VgammaVdelta genes in the skin the reproductive organs or gut epithelia The major function of T cells resides in local immunosurveillance and immune defense against infection and malignancy This is supported by the identification of ligands that are selectively recognized by the TCR As an example human Vgamma9Vdelta2 T cells recognize phosphorylated metabolites phosphoantigens that are secreted by many pathogens but can also be overproduced by tumor cells providing a basis for a role of these T cells in both anti infective and anti tumor immunity Similarly the recognition of endothelial protein C receptor by human non Vdelta2 T cells has recently been identified to provide a link for the role for such T cells in immunity against epithelial tumor cells and cytomegalovirus infected endothelial cells In addition to classical functions such as cytokine production and cytotoxicity recent studies suggest that subsets of T cells can exert additional functions such as regulatory activity and quite surprisingly professional antigen presenting capacity It is currently not well known how this tremendous extent of functional plasticity is regulated and what is the extent of TCR ligand diversity Due to their non MHC restricted recognition of unusual stress associated ligands T cells have raised great interest as to their potential translational application in cell based immunotherapy Topics of this Research Focus include Molecular insights into the activation and differentiation requirements of T cells role of pyrophosphates and butyrophilin molecules for the activation of human T cells role of T cells in tumor immunity and in other infectious and non infectious diseases and many others We are most grateful to all colleagues who agreed to write a manuscript Thanks to their contributions this E book presents an up to date overview on many facets of the still exciting T cells Dieter Kabelitz Julie D chanet Merville Handbook of Religion and Society David
