A Sense Of Vertigo 1991 2012 Poems:

A Sense of Vertigo Collin R. Brumagin, 2014-12-31 A Sense of Vertigo maps the evolution of Brumagin's mind through adolescence into adulthood creating a literary timeline of the progression of both his writing skills and maturity From the diction to the visual arrangement of words this collection of poems brings to life a 22 year journey allowing the reader to sit back and take a ride through Brumagin's thoughts Culminating with the same language and essence we found in I Smell of Cigarettes and Cheap Memories the book provides a perfect backdrop to understand his later emotional prowess in both love and heartache

Grant Morrison and the Superhero Renaissance Darragh Greene, Kate Roddy, 2015-08-10 Superheroes are enjoying a cultural resurgence dominating the box office and breaking out of specialty comics stores onto the shelves of mainstream retailers A leading figure behind the superhero Renaissance is Grant Morrison long time architect of the DC Comics universe and author of many of the most successful comic books in recent years Renowned for his anarchic original creations Zenith The Invisibles The Filth We3 as well as for his acclaimed serialized comics JLA Superman Batman New X Men Grant Morrison has radically redefined the superhero archetype Known for his eccentric lifestyle and as a practitioner of pop magic Morrison sees the superhero as not merely fantasy but a medium for imagining a better humanity Drawing on a variety of analytical approaches this first ever collection of critical essays on his work explores his rejuvenation of the figure of the superhero as a means to address the challenges of modern life

A History of European Literature Walter Cohen, 2017 Walter Cohen argues that the history of European literature and each of its standard periods can be illuminated by comparative consideration of the different literary languages within Europe and by the ties of European literature to world literature World literature is marked by recurrent systematic features outcomes of the way that language and literature are at once the products of major change and its agents Cohen tracks these features from ancient times to the present distinguishing five main overlapping stages Within that framework he shows that European literature's ongoing internal and external relationships are most visible at the level of form rather than of thematic statement or mimetic representation European literature emerges from world literature before the birth of Europe during antiquity whose Classical languages are the heirs to the complex heritage of Afro Eurasia This legacy is later transmitted by Latin to the various vernaculars The uniqueness of the process lies in the gradual displacement of the learned language by the vernacular long dominated by Romance literatures That development subsequently informs the second crucial differentiating dimension of European literature the multicontinental expansion of its languages and characteristic genres especially the novel beginning in the Renaissance This expansion ultimately results in the reintegration of European literature into world literature and thus in the creation of today's global literary system The distinctiveness of European literature is to be found in these interrelated trajectories

Keats's Negative Capability Brian Rejack, Michael Theune, 2019-01-18 Few critical terms coined by poets are more famous than negative capability Though Keats uses the mysterious term only once a consensus about its meaning has taken shape over the last two centuries Keats's Negative Capability New Origins and Afterlives offers alternative ways to approach and understand Keats's seductive term Aural Architecture in Byzantium: Music, Acoustics, and Ritual Bissera

Pentcheva, 2017-07-14 Aural architecture identifies those features of a building that can be perceived by the act of listening in them Emerging from the challenge to reconstruct sonic and spatial experiences of the deep past this book invites readers into the complex world of the Byzantine liturgy experienced in its chanted form in interiors covered with monumental mosaics and frescoes The multidisciplinary collection of ten essays explores the intersection of Byzantine liturgy music acoustics and architecture in the Late Antique churches of Constantinople Jerusalem and Rome and reflects on the role digital technology can play in re-creating aspects of the sensually rich performance of the divine word Situated Listening

Giorgio Biancorosso, 2016-09-01 In Situated Listening The Sound of Absorption in Classical Cinema author Giorgio Biancorosso examines the historical challenge of representing listening on screen Through analysis of classic films Situated Listening proves that cinema functions as a reservoir of established modes of listening and an agent in the development of new listening practices The Vertical Imagination and the Crisis of Transatlantic Modernism Paul Haacke, 2021-03-11 From the invention of skyscrapers and airplanes to the development of the nuclear bomb ideas about the modern increasingly revolved around vertiginous images of elevation and decline and new technologies of mobility and terror from above In The Vertical Imagination and the Crisis of Transatlantic Modernism Paul Haacke examines this turn by focusing on discourses of aspiration catastrophe and power in major works of European and American literature as well as film architecture and intellectual and cultural history This wide ranging and pointed study begins with canonical fiction by Franz Kafka Virginia Woolf James Joyce and John Dos Passos as well as poetry by Guillaume Apollinaire Hart Crane and Aimé Césaire before moving to critical reflections on the rise of New York City by architects and writers from Le Corbusier to Simone de Beauvoir the films of Alfred Hitchcock and theories of cinematic space and time and postwar novels by Kurt Vonnegut Thomas Pynchon and Leslie Marmon Silko among many other examples In tracing the rise and fall of modernist discourse over the course of the long twentieth century this book shows how visions of vertical ascension turned from established ideas about nature the body and religion to growing anxieties about aesthetic distinction technological advancement and American capitalism and empire It argues that spectacles of height and flight became symbols and icons of ambition as well as direct indexes of power and thus that the vertical transformation of modernity was both material and imagined taking place at the same time through the rapidly expanding built environment and shifting ideological constructions of high and low Handbook of Personality Development Dan P. McAdams, Rebecca L. Shiner, Jennifer L.

Tackett, 2021-04-02 Bringing together prominent scholars this authoritative volume considers the development of personality at multiple levels from the neuroscience of dispositional traits to the cultural shaping of life stories Illustrated with case studies and concrete examples the Handbook integrates areas of research that have often remained disparate It offers a lifespan perspective on the many factors that influence each individual's psychological makeup and examines the interface of personality development with health psychopathology relationships and the family Contributors provide broad based up to date reviews of theories empirical findings methodological innovations and emerging trends See also the authored volume The Art and Science of Personality Development by Dan P McAdams

The Idea of Galicia Larry Wolff, 2012-01-09 Galicia was created at the first partition of Poland in 1772 and disappeared in 1918 Yet in slightly over a century the idea of Galicia came to have meaning for both the peoples who lived there and the Habsburg government that ruled it Indeed its memory continues to exercise a powerful fascination for those who live in its former territories and for the descendants of those who emigrated out of Galicia The idea of Galicia was largely produced by the cultures of two cities Lviv and Cracow Making use of travelers accounts newspaper reports and literary works Wolff engages such figures as Emperor Joseph II Metternich Leopold von Sacher Masoch Ivan Franko Stanisław Wyspiański Tadeusz Boye-Żeleński Isaac Babel Martin Buber and Bruno Schulz He shows the exceptional importance of provincial space as a site for the evolution of cultural meanings and identities and analyzes the province as the framework for non national and multi national understandings of empire in European history
