quickly for a combat mission The Consolidated F 7 was a photographic reconnaissance version of the B 24 Liberator The F 7 saw service in most theatres of the war The long range of the Liberator also made it well suited to mapping missions during the war and post war Beginning in early 1944 to aid the Allied liberation of Europe Carpetbagger B 24s were utilized to parachute spies called Joes or Janes or provide aerial supply of weapons and other material to resistance fighters in occupied Europe Liberators also participated in the dropping of 275 billion propaganda leaflets using various techniques and delivery devices Electronic Warfare played an important part in Allied global pre invasion plans to discover the location of enemy radars and if possible destroy them This interception and analysis of an enemy electronic radiation was the origin of present day ELINT Electronic Intelligence Modified RAF B 24D Airborne Electronic Reconnaissance Liberators codenamed Ferret were Radio Counter Measures and Electronic Intelligence aircraft that played a major role in European air operations During 1942 the AAF became interested in aerial refueling as a means to bombing Japan A shorter range B 17E was selected as the receiver aircraft while the more spacious B 24D acted as the tanker Although these tests were considered to be successful the availability of longer ranging B 29s and bases ever closer to Japan diminished the urgency of wartime aerial refueling During the war eighty three B 24s crashed or made forced landings in Switzerland sixty in Sweden and several in Russia Spain Portugal and Turkey Many of these Liberators landed undamaged or were repaired to be flown by these nations Of particular interest are the six Liberators that were captured and flown by the Luftwaffe Packed with a unique collection of photographs Special Operations Consolidated B 24 Liberators reveals the most unusual and little known facets of the Second World War s most versatile bomber The B-24 Liberator Haulers William Wolf,2024-09-30 With iconic images depicting it in the skies over Occupied Europe or the Far East the B 24 Liberator is remembered for its part in the Allies bombing campaigns during the Second World War But there was another part to this famous four engine aircraft one that is less well known While the Douglas C 47 Dakota is deservedly celebrated as the most important twin engine transport aircraft of the war the early use of the four engine Consolidated B 24 Liberator bomber as a passenger carrier is virtually unknown but was as important Since the B 24 had more interior room than the B 17 it could be more easily be converted into a personnel carrier These early Liberators operated America s and Britain s early diplomatic missions and then were to be extensively flown by the Atlantic Ferry Organization and the Transport Commands on missions that opened the world to air transport as never before Several B 24s were converted for VIP personal and diplomatic use which included Harriman s Moscow and round the world diplomatic mission and those used by Churchill and Eisenhower to get around To meet the need for a cargo and personnel transport which had longer transoceanic range and improved high altitude performance than the C 47 in early 1942 the C 87 a hastily designed B 24 derivative was placed into production By installing a built up floor section that replaced the bomb bay doors the C 87 could carry six tons of cargo loaded through a cargo door cut into the side of its fuselage or through a special hinged door in its nose Most C 87s were operated by the US Ferrying Command and Air

Transport Command by the late summer of 1943 they were extensively operating regular routes from the United States to the world's most remote areas. To meet this increased requirement for air transport the ATC was forced to turn to four civil commercial airlines for help operating the system. Of the 287 purpose built C-87s 24 were transferred to the RAF under Lend Lease for RAF Ferry and Transport Command. The C-87 would remain as a prime mover until the dedicated C-54 Skymaster four engine transport came into service. The 218 C-109s were fuel tanker conversions of completed B-24 bombers which had all armament removed and extra fuel tanks added to carry fuel from India for B-29s based in China. Due to the lack of C-47s after D-Day conventional B-24s were again converted for transporting vital supplies and bulk fuel to troops in France. Once Allied troops broke out of the Normandy beachhead converted Liberators flew Trucking supply drop operations delivering emergency fuel and supplies to Patton's fuel starved armies racing across France. Later these B-24s supplied the ill-fated Operation Market Garden at Arnhem.
