Ellen McWilliams

A Sense Of Place A History Of Irish Planning:

Sense of Place Sean O'Leary, 2014-10-06 The modern Irish planning system was introduced on 1 October 1964 when the Local Government Planning and Development Act 1963 came into force to make provision in the interests of the common good for the proper planning and development of cities towns and other areas Given the popular image of a post Celtic Tiger landscape haunted by ghost estates ongoing efforts to address the notoriety of some public housing schemes and the fall out from a planning corruption tribunal which spanned fifteen years the time is ripe for reflection and analysis on the successes innovations and failures of the Irish planning system This book traces the evolution of land use planning in Ireland from early settlements to the present day and discusses its role in meeting social environmental and economic challenges and opportunities

Irish Housing Design 1950 - 1980 Brian Ward, Michael Pike, Gary Boyd, 2019-12-11 This book examines the architectural design of housing projects in Ireland from the mid twentieth century This period represented a high point in the construction of the Welfare State project where the idea that architecture could and should shape and define community and social life was not yet considered problematic Exploring a period when Ireland embraced the free market and the end of economic protectionism the book is a series of case studies supported by critical narratives Little known but of high quality the schemes presented in this volume are by architects whose designs helped determine future architectural thinking in Ireland and elsewhere Aimed at academics students and researchers the book is accompanied by new drawings and over 100 full colour images with the example studies demonstrating rich architectural responses to a shifting landscape

Women and Exile in Contemporary Irish Fiction Ellen McWilliams, 2013-04-09 Women and Exile in Contemporary Irish Fiction examines how contemporary Irish authors have taken up the history of the Irish woman migrant It situates these writers work in relation to larger discourses of exile in the Irish literary tradition and examines how they engage with the complex history of Irish emigration

Music and Identity in Ireland and Beyond Mark Fitzgerald, John O'Flynn, 2016-04-29 Music and Identity in Ireland and Beyond represents the first interdisciplinary volume of chapters on an intricate cultural field that can be experienced and interpreted in manifold ways whether in Ireland The Republic of Ireland and or Northern Ireland among its diaspora s or further afield While each contributor addresses particular themes viewed from discrete perspectives collectively the book contemplates whether music in Ireland can be regarded as one interrelated plane of cultural and or national identity given the various conceptions and contexts of both Ireland geographical political diasporic mythical and Music including a proliferation of practices and genres that give rise to multiple sites of identification Arranged in the relatively distinct yet interweaving parts of Historical Perspectives Recent and Contemporary Production and Cultural Explorations its various chapters act to juxtapose the socio historical distinctions between the major style categories most typically associated with music in Ireland traditional classical and popular and to explore a range of dialectical relationships between these musical styles in matters pertaining to national and cultural identity The book includes a number of chapters that examine various movements and moments of traditional music revival from the late eighteenth century to the present day as well as chapters that tease out various issues of national identity pertaining to individual composers performers art music popular music and their audiences Many chapters in the volume consider mediating influences infrastructural technological political and or social categories class gender religion ethnicity race age in the interpretation of music production and consumption Performers and composers discussed include U2 Raymond Deane Afro Celt Sound System E J Moeran S amus Ennis Kevin O Connell Stiff Little Fingers Frederick May Arnold

Creating Smart Cities Claudio Coletta, Leighton Evans, Liam Heaphy, Rob Kitchin, 2018-10-26 In cities around the world digital technologies are utilized to manage city services and infrastructures to govern urban life to solve urban issues and to drive local and regional economies While smart city advocates are keen to promote the benefits of smart urbanism increased efficiency sustainability resilience competitiveness safety and security critics point to the negative effects such as the production of technocratic governance the corporatization of urban services technological lock ins privacy harms and vulnerability to cyberattack This book through a range of international case studies suggests social political and practical interventions that would enable more equitable and just smart cities reaping the benefits of smart city initiatives while minimizing some of their perils Included are case studies from Ireland the United States of America Colombia the Netherlands Singapore India and the United Kingdom These chapters discuss a range of issues including political economy citizenship standards testbedding urban regeneration ethics surveillance privacy and cybersecurity This book will be of interest to urban policymakers as well as researchers in Regional Studies and Urban Planning

Memories of the Classical Underworld in Irish and Caribbean Literature Madeleine Scherer, 2021-09-20 Classical Memories is an intervention into the field of adaptation studies taking the example of classical reception to show that adaptation is a process that can be driven by and produce intertextual memories I see classical memories as a memory driven type of adaptation that draws on and reproduces schematic and otherwise de contextualised conceptions of antiquity and its cultural exports in broadly speaking the twentieth and twenty first centuries These memory driven adaptations differ often in significant ways from more traditional adaptations that seek to either continue or deconstruct a long running tradition that can be traced back to antiquity as well as its canonical points of reception in later ages When investigating such a popular and widespread set of narratives characters and images like those that remain of Graeco Roman antiquity terms like adaptation and reception could and should be nuanced further to allow us to understand the complex interactions between modern works and classical antiquity in more detail particularly when it pertains to postcolonial or post digital classical reception In Classical Memories I propose that understanding certain types of adaptations as intertextual memories allows us to do just that

Understanding Contemporary Ireland Brendan Bartley, Rob Kitchin, 2006-12-20 This is an account of Ireland in the twenty first century and the remarkable economic and social transformations that have occurred since the late 1980s The Celtic Tiger phenomenon made Ireland the focus of much attention in recent years Other countries have openly declared that they want to follow the Irish economic and social model Yet there is no book that gives a comprehensive spatially informed analysis of the Irish experience This book fills that gap Divided into four parts planning and development the economy the political landscape and population and social issues the book explains a particular aspect of Ireland and Irish life The authors reveal how the transformations that have occurred are uneven and unequal in their effects across the country and highlight the challenges now facing Irish society and policy makers

Healing Waters Ronan Foley, 2016-04-15 Bringing together a range of different place studies including holy wells spa towns Turkish baths and sweat houses sea bathing and the modern spa this book investigates associations between water health place and culture in Ireland It is informed by a humanistic approach showing how health and place are socially and culturally constructed and how health is embodied experienced and enacted in place In addition the work argues that an understanding of health and place must also consider the historical societal and cultural orthodoxies that shape and produce those places

Women and the Irish Diaspora Breda Gray, 2004-07-31 Women and the Irish Diaspora looks at the changing nature of national and cultural belonging both among women who have left Ireland and those who remain It identifies new ways of thinking about Irish modernity by looking specifically at women's lives and their experiences of migration and diaspora Based on original research with Irish women both in Ireland and in England this book explores how questions of mobility and stasis are recast along gender class racial and generational lines Through analyses of representations of the strong Irish mother migrant women the global Irish family and celebrity culture Breda Gray further unravels some of the complex relationships between femininity and Irish modernity

The Routledge Companion to Intangible Cultural Heritage Michelle L. Stefano, Peter Davis, 2016-12-08 This collection provides an in depth and up to date examination of the concept of Intangible Cultural Heritage and the issues surrounding its value to society Critically engaging with the UNESCO 2003 Convention for the Safeguarding of the Intangible Cultural Heritage the book also discusses local level conceptualizations of living cultural traditions practices and expressions and reflects on the efforts that seek to safeguard them Exploring a global range of case studies the book considers the diverse perspectives currently involved with intangible cultural heritage and presents a rich picture of the geographic socioeconomic and political contexts impacting research in this area With contributions from established and emerging scholars public servants professionals students and community members this volume is also deeply enhanced by an interdisciplinary approach which draws on the theories and practices of heritage and museum studies anthropology folklore studies ethnomusicology and the study of cultural policy and related law The Routledge Companion to Intangible Cultural Heritage undoubtedly broadens the international heritage discourse and is an invaluable learning tool for instructors students and practitioners in the field
