A Temporary Future The Fiction Of David Mitchell:

A Temporary Future Patrick O'Donnell, 2015 A Temporary Future: The Fiction of David Mitchell Patrick O'Donnell, 2015-01-29 Having emerged as one of the leading contemporary British writers David Mitchell is rapidly taking his place amongst British novelists with the gravitas of an Ishiguro or a McEwan. Written for a wide constituency of readers of contemporary literature A Temporary Future: The Fiction of David Mitchell explores Mitchell's main concerns including those of identity, history, language, imperialism, childhood, the environment, and ethnicity across the six novels published so far, as well as his protean ability to write in multiple and diverse genres. It places Mitchell in the tradition of Murakami, Sebald, and Rushdie, writers whose works explore narrative in an age of globalization and cosmopolitanism. Patrick O'Donnell traces the through lines of Mitchell's work from ghostwritten to The Bone Clocks and with a chapter on each of the six novels charts the evolution of Mitchell's fictional project.

The Poetics of Empowerment in David Mitchell's Novels Eva-Maria Windberger, 2023-07-17 The Poetics of Empowerment in David Mitchell's Novels combines the investigation of David Mitchell's novels with the introduction of a new critical concept to literary studies: empowerment. Aiming to situate and establish empowerment firmly within the context of literary studies, it offers the first framework and definition for reading fictional texts with the lens of empowerment and applies it in the analysis of discourse, the fictional characters, and the role of the reader in Mitchell's novels. Drawing on narratological analysis, cognitive approaches to literature, and reader response theory, it features close readings of Cloud Atlas (2004), Black Swan Green (2006), and The Thousand Autumns of Jacob de Zoet (2010) and dissects the author's strategies, poetics, and agenda of empowering fiction. This book argues for an inherent indissoluble connection between empowerment and the telling of stories and demonstrates how literary studies can benefit from a serious engagement with empowerment and how such an engagement can stimulate new responses to fiction and put literary studies in conversation with other disciplines.

Apocalyptic Visions in the Anthropocene and the Rise of Climate Fiction Kübra Baysal, 2021-08-10 With the increasing interest of pop culture and academia towards environmental issues, which has simultaneously given rise to fiction and artworks dealing with interdisciplinary issues, climate change is an undeniable reality of our time. In accordance with the severe environmental degradation and health crises today, including the COVID-19 pandemic, human beings are awakening to this reality through climate fiction (cli-fi), which depicts ways to deal with the anthropogenic transformations on Earth through apocalyptic worlds as displayed in works of literature, media, and art. Appealing to a wide range of readers, from NGOs to students, this book fills a gap in the fields of literature, media, and art and sheds light on the inevitable interconnection of humankind with the nonhuman environment through effective descriptions of associable conditions in the works of climate fiction.

The Epistolary Renaissance Maria Löschnigg, Rebekka Schuh, 2018-09-10 Since the late twentieth century letters in literature have seen a remarkable renaissance The prominence of letters in recent fiction is due in part to the rediscovery by contemporary writers of letters as an effective tool for rendering aspects of historicity liminality marginalization and the expression of subjectivity vis vis an other it is also due however to the artistically challenging inclusion of the new electronic media of communication into fiction While studies of epistolary fiction have so far concentrated on the eighteenth century and on thematic concerns this volume charts the epistolary renaissance in recent literature entering new territory by also focusing on the aesthetic implications of the epistolary mode In particular the essays in this volume illuminate the potential of the epistolary including digital forms for rendering contemporary sensitivities The volume thus offers a comprehensive assessment of letter narratives in contemporary literature Through its focus on the aesthetic and structural aspects of new epistolary fiction the inclusion of various narrative forms and the consideration of both conventional letters and their new digital kindred The Epistolary Renaissance offers novel insight into a multi faceted re new ed genre

Japanese Imperialism in Contemporary English Fiction Ching-chih Wang, 2019-11-02 This book considers literary images of Japan created by David Mitchell Kazuo Ishiguro and Tan Twan Eng to examine the influence of Japanese imperialism and its legacy at a time when culture was appropriated as route to governmentality and violence justified as root to peace Using David Mitchell's The Thousand Autumns of Jacob de Zoet

Tan Twang Eng's The Garden of the Evening Mists and Kazuo Ishiguro's work to examine Japanese militarists' tactics of usurpation and how Japanese imperialism reached out to the grass root public and turned into a fundamental belief in colonial invasion and imperial expansion. The book provides an in-depth study of trauma, memory, and war. From studying the rise of Japanese imperialism to Japan's legitimization of colonial invasion, in addition to the devastating consequences of imperialism on both the colonizers and the colonized, the book provides a literary discursive context to re-examine the forces of civilization which will appeal to all those interested in diasporic literature and postcolonial discourse and the continued relevance of literature in understanding memory, legacy, and war.
