Letter to Students and Families

Dear Students and Families,

Welcome to 10th Grade World Literature! I am excited to embark on this learning journey with you. This course is designed not only to explore powerful stories from around the world but also to connect these stories to the lives, cultures, and voices of today's students—including yours.

About the Course

World Literature invites us to see the world through the eyes of others. From ancient myths and classic tragedies to contemporary global texts, we will explore the human condition of universal identity, power, justice, resistance, and the human condition across cultures and time periods. This curriculum is rooted in culturally responsive teaching, meaning we will honor and engage with diverse perspectives while encouraging students to bring their own experiences and insights into our classroom community.

Our Classroom Model

Flexible Classroom Structure (Typical Week)

Day	In-Class (Typical)	At-Home (Engaging Application)
Mon	Watch video introduction, read assigned chapter or short text	Read chapter or short text at home
Tue	Complete guided annotation or journaling	Collaborative writing, class meeting online
Wed	Watch episode from podcast or video series	Group project work, debate, discussion
Thu	Read or listen to paired global/modern text	Creative application: performance, media project
Fri	Reflective writing or peer review	Write final reflection, group reflection or gallery walk

This course will follow a flipped classroom model, which means that direct instruction—such as video lessons, background content, or reading assignments—will typically happen at home, allowing us to use our class time for deeper discussions, collaborative learning, creative application.

Common Core Curriculum Maps in English Language Arts, Grades K-5 Great Minds, 2011-10-19. The first books to present specific guidance for teaching the Common Core State Standards. Forty-three states plus the District of Columbia and the U.S. Virgin Islands have signed on to adopt the Common Core State Standards (CCSS). The need for curriculum guides to assist teachers in helping students meet these standards has become imperative. Created by teachers for teachers, the research-based curriculum maps in this book present a comprehensive, coherent sequence of thematic units for teaching the skills outlined in the CCSS for English language arts in Grades K-5. The maps address every standard in the CCSS yet are flexible and adaptable to accommodate diverse teaching styles. Each grade is broken down into six units that include focus standards, suggested works, sample activities and assessments, lesson plans, and more. Teachers can use the maps to plan their year and craft their own more detailed lesson plans. Any teacher, school, or district that chooses to follow the Common Core maps can be confident that they are adhering to the standards.
