

1.1 Operating System and Function

An operating system (OS) is a program that controls the execution of application programs and acts as an interface between applications and the computer hardware.

Examples: Microsoft Windows, Apple macOS, Linux OS, Unix OS.

An OS has three main objectives:

- i. An operating system should make the computer more convenient to use.
- ii. An operating system should use the hardware efficiently.
- iii. An OS should allow the development, testing, and introduction of new functions.

An operating system has two basic functions:

1. Resource management

- Process management
- Memory management
- I/O device management
- File management

2. Virtual machine management

1. The Operating System as Resource Manager

Computer systems consist of different hardware and software as resources such as processors, memory, timers, disks, n/w interfaces and so on. Each of these resources has its own functionality and usage which needs to be managed and piled up to make whole computer system work efficiently and complete the given task. So, OS is the one which manages all the resources providing an ordered and controlled allocation of resources among various programs.

Android Tablet Guide: For Seniors Jacob Gleam, 2015-05-07 The Android platform is a mobile operating system that is somewhat based around the Linux environment that was developed by Google. The interface of the system is totally based on direct manipulation which is made to be primarily used in touchscreen devices. Tablets are one of these devices that are specialized for the Android operating system that completely integrates the real life actions of individuals. These actions include swiping, tapping, pinching to move around and select objects on the screen. The statistics on these devices prove how popular they are with over 1 billion active Android users which illustrate how great the platform is. The setup of the Android system has been opened by Google to allow developers to be able to create their own additions to the operating system. It is quite popular with developers as it represents a ready made and low cost environment that works perfectly for high tech devices.
