Habit Building Global Trend:

World Wide Weed Tom Decorte, 2016-02-11 For the majority of its history the cultivation of cannabis did not stand out at least compared to the cultivation of other illegal plants Cannabis plantations like coca bush or opium poppy plantations were typically large in size grown by local farmers in a handful of developing producing countries processed and then exported to industrial consuming nations While cocaine and heroin are still produced in a handful of developing countries cannabis cultivation is increasingly universal From Europe to the Americas and Oceania import substitution in cannabis markets has been noticed in almost every developed country around the world with a notable aversion for discrimination Geographical technological cultural and economic factors help to explain why indoor and outdoor domestic cultivation is well established and why the nature and extent of cultivation varies so dramatically across the western developed nations As we start the second decade of the 21st century the new cannabis industry continues to fascinate both casual and academic observers of the drug scene Researchers around the world have become increasingly interested in the phenomenon aiming to describe and potentially explain the rapid switch from importation to domestic production in their own countries In bringing together some of the world's leading experts on cannabis cultivation this book contains sixteen chapters that take an interdisciplinary look at global trends in cannabis cultivation It will serve as an exemplar for wider discussions of key theories and concepts relating to the spread not just of cannabis cultivation but also of illegal markets more generally the actors that operate within these markets and the policies and practices that are employed in response to developments within these markets

Smart Instead of Small in International Relations Theory Spyridon N. Litsas, 2023-11-16 Small States theory supports the argument that small international actors have a vital role in the international system After 9/11 it emerged as a more focused attempt to show that small can be attractive and functional in an era of normative political and religious radicalism This book argues that Small States Theory is not relevant to the perplexities of the post multipolar international system and produces a new theory the Smart States Theory Based on structural and neoclassical realism it attempts to identify the origins of state smartness in foreign policy leadership and domestic politics The United Arab Emirates will be used as the case study of this novel theoretical approach The impressive evolution of the Trucial States to a modern nation state of high technology dynamic foreign policy as the recent pandemic fully showed unique leadership and unparalleled tolerance towards other religions and cultures make the UAE a brilliant example of a smart state of the 21st century The reader of the book will be introduced to a new theory in International Relations as well as to the history politics society and leadership of a state that plays a pivotal role not only in the Gulf region but in the broader framework of the Middle East too the United Arab Emirates
