The Encyclopedia of Diversity and Social Justice contains over 300 entries alphabetically arranged for straightforward and convenient use by scholars and general readers alike This reference is a comprehensive and systematic collection of designated entries that describe in detail important diversity and social justice themes Thompson assisted by a network of contributors and consultants provides a centralized source and convenient way to discover the modern meaning richness and significance of diversity and social justice language while offering a balanced viewpoint This book reveals the unique nature of the language of diversity and social justice and makes the connection between how this language influences negatively and positively institutions and society The terms have been carefully chosen in order to present the common usage of words and themes that dominate our daily conversations about these topics Entries range from original research to synopses of existing scholarship These discussions provide alternative views to popular doctrines and philosophical truths and include many of the most popular terms used in current conversations on the topic from ageism to xenophobia This reference covers cultural social and political vernacular to offer an historical perspective as well With contributions from experts in various fields the entries consist of topics that represent a wider context among a diverse community of people from every walk of life

Food Security and Global Environmental Change John Ingram,Polly Ericksen,Diana Liverman,2012-07-26 Global environmental change GEC represents an immediate and unprecedented threat to the food security of hundreds of millions of people especially those who depend on small scale agriculture for their livelihoods As this book shows at the same time agriculture and related activities also contribute to GEC by for example intensifying greenhouse gas emissions and altering the land surface Responses aimed at adapting to GEC may have negative consequences for food security just as measures taken to increase food security may exacerbate GEC The authors show that this complex and dynamic relationship between GEC and food security is also influenced by additional factors food systems are heavily influenced by socioeconomic conditions which in turn are affected by multiple processes such as macro level economic policies political conflicts and other important drivers The book provides a major accessible synthesis of the current state of knowledge and thinking on the relationships between GEC and food security Most other books addressing the subject concentrate on the links between climate change and agricultural production and do not extend to an analysis of the wider food system which underpins food security this book addresses the broader issues based on a novel food system concept and stressing the need for actions at a regional rather than just an international or local level It reviews new thinking which has emerged over the last decade analyses research methods for stakeholder engagement and for undertaking studies at the regional level and looks forward by reviewing a number of emerging hot topics in the food security GEC debate which help set new agendas for the research community at large Published with Earth System Science Partnership GECAFS and SCOPE South African Journal of Science ,1995 Science ,1930 Environment Abstracts ,1982 World Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology Abstracts ,1995 Yearbook of International Organizations ,1999 Urban Food Systems Governance and Poverty in African Cities Jane Battersby, Vanessa Watson, 2018-08-22 As Africa urbanises and the focus of poverty shifts to urban centres there is an imperative to address poverty in African cities This is particularly the case in smaller cities which are often the most rapidly urbanising but the least able to cope with this growth This book argues that an examination of the food system and food security provides a valuable lens to interrogate urban poverty Chapters examine the linkages between poverty urban food systems and local governance with a focus on case studies from three smaller or secondary cities in Africa Kisumu Kenya Kitwe Zambia and Epworth Zimbabwe The book makes a wider contribution to debates on urban studies and urban governance in Africa through analysis of the causes and consequences of the paucity of urban scale data for decision makers and by presenting potential methodological innovations to address this paucity As the global development agenda is increasingly focusing on urban issues most notably the urban goal of the new Sustainable Development Goals and the New Urban Agenda the work is timely The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.tandfebooks.com/doi/view/10.4324/9781315191195> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license Parliamentary Debates (Hansard).
