Cambridge Compendium of International Commercial and Investment Arbitration Stefan Kröll,Andrea K. Bjorklund,Franco Ferrari,2023-03-02 The Compendium like an encyclopedia contains entries for most of the foundational principles and concepts underlying arbitration Each entry takes a holistic view of international arbitration as they tackle core concepts from both a commercial and an investment arbitration perspective focusing on the fundamental issues underlying the various topics rather than on the solutions adopted in any particular jurisdiction thus making the Compendium a truly cross border transnational resource This innovative approach will allow readers to identify the commonalities as well as the differences between commercial and investment arbitration whether and where cross fertilization has taken place and what consequences it can have This approach allows the Compendium to be a tool in promoting the creation of a culture of international arbitration that considers commercial arbitration and investment arbitration as part of a whole but with certain distinct features particular to each

Beyond the Skills Gap Matthew T. Hora, 2019-01-02 2018 Frederic W Ness Book Award AAC U How can educators ensure that young people who attain a postsecondary credential are adequately prepared for the future Matthew T Hora and his colleagues explain that the answer is not simply that students need more specialized technical training to meet narrowly defined employment opportunities Beyond the Skills Gap challenges this conception of the skills gap highlighting instead the value of broader twenty first century skills in postsecondary education They advocate for a system in which employers share responsibility along with the education sector to serve the collective needs of the economy society and students Drawing on interviews with educators in two and four year institutions and employers in the manufacturing and biotechnology sectors the authors demonstrate the critical importance of habits of mind such as problem solving teamwork and communication They go on to show how faculty and program administrators can create active learning experiences that develop students skills across a range of domains The book includes in depth descriptions of eight educators whose classrooms exemplify the effort to blend technical learning with the cultivation of twenty first century habits of mind The study set in Wisconsin takes place against the backdrop of heated political debates over the role of public higher education This thoughtful and nuanced account enriched by keen observations of postsecondary instructional practice promises to contribute new insights to the rich literature on workforce development and to provide valuable guidance for postsecondary faculty and administrators

MOOCs and online education Sarah R. Pouezevara,Laura J. Horn,2016-03-01 Massive open online courses MOOCs are a relatively recent innovation with potential to provide access to relevant education and workforce training at scale RTI previously studied MOOCs in the context of the US market and determined that more efforts are needed to examine the prospect of MOOC use in developing economies This paper defines MOOCs and contrasts MOOCs with previously established forms of online learning and open educational resources It concludes that although MOOCs have potential for expanding access to important educational content and resources currently they favor more privileged and educated individuals Further evolution of ICT infrastructure platforms and pedagogical models is needed before common MOOC models can meet the needs of the majority of learners in developing economies

The Nation's Capital Brewmaster Mark Elliott Benbow,2017-10-11 Christian Heurich 1842 1945 was not only Washington D C s most successful brewer he was the world s oldest with 90 years experience He walked across central Europe learning his craft survived a shipboard cholera epidemic recovered from malaria and worked as a roustabout on a Caribbean banana boat all by age 30 Heurich lived most of his life in Washington becoming its largest private landowner and opening the city s largest brewery He won a beer war against his rivals and his beers won medals at World s Fairs He was trapped in Europe while on vacation at the start of both World Wars once sleeping through an air raid and was accused of being a German spy plotting to assassinate Woodrow Wilson A notably odd episode when they began to tear down his old brewery to build the Kennedy Center the wrecking ball bounced off the walls Drawing on family papers and photos the author chronicles Heurich s life and the evolving beer industry before and after Prohibition

Audit the Audit Huishu Wu,Chuan Zhang,2025-11-20 This book deals with the tension between law and technology of data protection topic to propose a novel approach for interpreting personal data protection audit Audits have long been criticized as a ritual of verification originating from the financial sector While this book proposed that audit is in fact a regulatory control system rather than a verification tool especially dealing with audit of data The prerequisite for reading this book is a basic understanding of data protection audit system information technology as well as administrative law

Dynamic systems theory and embodiment in psychotherapy research. A new look at process and outcome Sergio Salvatore,Wolfgang Tschacher,Omar Carlo Gioacchino Gelo,Sabine C Koch,2016-04-11 In an attempt to cease from reducing the world and its

emergent phenomena to linear modeling and analytic dissection Dynamic Systems Theories DST and Embodiment theories and methods aim at accounting for the complex dynamic and non linear phenomena that we constantly deal with in psychology For instance DST and Embodiment can enrich psychology s understanding of the communicative process both in clinical and non clinical settings In psychotherapy an important amount of research has shown that next to other ingredients the therapeutic relationship is the most important active factor contributing to psychotherapy outcome These findings give communication a central role in the psychotherapy process In the traditional view the underlying model of understanding psychotherapy processes is that of a number of components summatively coming together enabling us to make a linear causal prediction Yet communication is inherently dynamic A shift to viewing the communication process in psychotherapy as a field dynamic phenomenon helps us to take into account nonlinear phenomena such as feedback processes within and between persons We thus propose an embodied enactive dynamic systems view as a new theoretical and methodological perspective that can more realistically capture what happens among and between two persons in psychotherapy This view reaches beyond the current narrow model of psychotherapy research DST and Embodied Enactive Approaches can offer solutions to the loss of non linear phenomena the complex dynamics of reality and the holistic level of analysis DST and Embodied Enactive Approaches have developed not in a single discipline but in a joined movement based on various fields such as physics biology robotics anthropology philosophy linguistics neuroscience and psychology and have only recently entered clinical theorizing The two new paradigms have already triggered a rethinking of the therapeutic exchange by recognizing the embodied nature of psychological and communicative phenomena Their integration opens up a promising scenario in the field of psychotherapy research developing new profoundly transdisciplinary theoretical concepts methodologies and standards of knowledge The notion of field dynamics enables us to account for the role of the communicational context in the regulation of intra psychological processes while at the same time avoiding the pitfalls of an ontologization of the hierarchy of systemic organization Moreover the new approach implements methodological strategies that can transcend the conventional opposition between idiographic and nomothetic sciences
