Many do you think the profit margin for Anagene's cartridges has been fluctuating? Is there attributable to the actual number of cartridges sold or the change in the number of the existing system they are using to calculate the cost?

The actual number of cartridges sold has not changed. The company looked at the estimated number of cartridges produced and reduced the quantity of the costs per unit. This led to the estimated marginal cost to change. Finally, comparing marginal revenue to the marginal cost quantity level to find the profit-maximizing level.
