Schaeffer, 2015-02-03 Master's Thesis from the year 2013 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1.0 University of Leipzig English studies language English abstract Fictional animals constitute a unique literary device to let familiar things appear in a new light Yet despite the fact that a number of dystopian texts utilise animals to convey manifold criticism very little scholarly attention has been paid to this The present research paper discusses the varied effects and overall significance of animal Others in eight relevant dystopias from late Victorianism to Postmodernism in consideration of Edward Said's Otherness The results reveal that dystopian animal Others represent a powerful tool to convey manifold social criticism Moreover most of the selected literature deconstructs animal Otherness by jeopardising the otherwise generally unquestioned Western animal human paradigm This effect intensifies the dystopian impulse and even more importantly potentially sparks off a thought process that exposes the pejorative mechanisms underlying non-fictional Others While real life social out groups may benefit from the emancipatory analogy anthropological self criticism by questioning one's own judgmental authority appears to be even more significant
