Bounded Disciplines and Unbounded Problems Baruch Fischhoff, 2025-01-12 People often face complex novel fateful and wildly unbounded problems throughout their lives In their work disciplinary scientists hone their wisdom on the complexities of necessarily bounded problems Bounded Disciplines and Unbounded Problems offers a vision for schools of management science to bring these worlds together by doing more of what they do best co creating solutions in ways that serve the world and the disciplines Disciplinary wisdom is illustrated with studies eliciting beliefs and preferences Collaboration is illustrated with a wide variety of applications including climate energy health security technology and natural disasters The proposed strategy for bonding bounded disciplines offers a realistic path forward at a time when the value of academia is sometimes questioned by the public students and even some of its members The Genocide

Contagion Israel W. Charny, 2016-07-15 In The Genocide Contagion Israel W Charny asks uncomfortable questions about what allows people to participate in genocide either directly through killing or other violent acts or indirectly by sitting passively while witnessing genocidal acts Charny draws on both historical and current examples such as the Holocaust and the Armenian Genocide and presses readers around the world to consider how they might contribute to genocide Given the number of people who die from genocide or suffer indirect consequences such as forced migration Charny argues that we must all work to resist and to learn about ourselves before critical moments arise The Comparative Study of Juvenile Correctional Institutions University of Michigan. Feeling Colour Bregt Lameris, 2025-03-06 The shift back from quasi monochrome to coloured motion picture during the 1950s and 1960s famously provided moviegoers the dazzling opportunity to more fully engage their senses all the while opening new modes of affective possibilities for filmmakers Set against the intersection of media studies emotion theory biology and digital humanities Feeling Colour Chromatic Embodiment in Film Culture 1950s 1960s delves into the role colour played in the oft fraught relationship between cinema and its audiences This transnational analysis of an extensive range of midcentury cinematography examines the multilayered effects which extend beyond the silver screen offering a high level theoretical elaboration and in depth historical exploration of both experimental and mainstream movies Lameris takes an interdisciplinary perspective examining the different ways colour creates or was believed to create embodied reactions From perception theory and putting the nerves in motion to colour psychology and how to steer the spectator to cross modal perception or synaesthesia Lameris asks how colours and feelings in film are entangled in the colour cultures discourses and beliefs of a particular historical context With its influential cultural scholarly contribution and accessible writing style this book will delight both students and specialists in film and media studies In addition those interested in the history and use of color in advertising neuroscience gender studies and emotion will find the book engaging and useful The Social Nature of Emotions Gerben A. van Kleef, Arik

Cheshin, Agneta H. Fischer, Iris K. Schneider, 2016-08-11 Emotion is a defining aspect of the human condition Emotions pervade our social and professional lives they affect our thinking and behavior and they profoundly shape our relationships and social interactions Emotions have traditionally been conceptualized and studied as individual phenomena with research focusing on cognitive and expressive components and on physiological and neurological processes underlying emotional reactions Over the last two decades however an increasing scholarly awareness has emerged that emotions are inherently social that is they tend to be elicited by other people expressed at other people and regulated to influence other people or to comply with social norms Fischer Keltner Parkinson 1996 Van Kleef 2009 Despite this increasing awareness the inclusion of the social dimension as a fundamental element in emotion research is still in its infancy Fischer Doosje Branscombe Spears Fischer Hess Mesquita Tiedens 2001 The third set of questions has to do with the ways in which people respond to the emotional expressions of others and how such responses are shaped by the social context Studies have shown that emotional expressions can influence the behavior of others for instance in group settings Barsade 2002 Cheshin Rafaeli Heerdink Van Kleef Homan Van Kleef De Dreu Van Kleef Homan Beersma Van Knippenberg 2010 This Research Topic centers around these and related questions regarding the social nature of emotions thereby highlighting new research opportunities and guiding future directions in the field We bring together a collection of papers to provide an encyclopedic open access snapshot of the current state of the art of theorizing and research on the social nature of emotion The state of the art work that is presented in this e book helps advance the understanding of the social nature of emotions It brings together the latest cutting edge findings and thoughts on this central topic in emotion science as it heads toward the next frontier Quebec Cinema in the 21st Century Michael Gott, Thibaut Schilt, 2024-02-06 This collection of ten chapters and three original interviews with Quebec filmmakers focuses on the past two decades of Quebec cinema and takes an in depth look at a primarily Montreal based filmmaking industry whose increasingly diverse productions continue to resist the hegemony of Hollywood and to exist as a visible and successful hub of French language and ever more multilingual cinema in North America This volume picks up where Bill Marshall's 2001 Quebec National Cinema ends to investigate the inherently global nature of Quebec's film industry and cinematic output since the beginning of the new millennium Through their analyses of contemporary films Une colonie Avant les rues Bon cop bad cop Les Affamés Tom la ferme Uvanga among others directors including Xavier Dolan Denis Côté Sophie Desrues Chloé Robichaud Jean Marc Vallée and Monia Chokri and genres such as the buddy comedy and the zombie film our authors examine the growing tension between Quebec cinema as a national cinema and as an art form that reflects the transnationalism of today's world a new form of fluidity of individual experiences and an increasing on screen presence of Indigenous subjects both within and outside the borders of the province The book concludes with specially conducted interviews with filmmakers Denis Chouinard Bachir Bensaddek and Marie-Hélène Cousineau who provide their views and insights on contemporary Quebec filmmaking

Back in the Game Jeffrey S. Kutcher, Joanne C. Gerstner, 2017 The word concussion was unheard of in youth sports a decade ago The injury was indeed occurring but youth athletes were often told to shake it off after getting their bell rung Science and increased awareness about concussion and brain health have transformed the way youth parents coaches and players pursue athletics Fear of incurring concussions as well as incomplete or incorrect information is leading some parents to keep their children out of contact sports such as football and soccer where concussion is more prevalent Back in the Game: Why Concussion Doesn't Have to End Your Athletic Career does not dwell on perpetuating fears but rather provides the most up to date understanding of the condition This is a real world discussion of what science and medicine know what parents and coaches need to understand about concussion evaluation and treatment and what possible post concussive issues exist The expertise and experiences of noted sports neurologist Jeffrey S Kutcher MD along with reporting and interviews by award winning sports journalist Joanne C Gerstner make this book a timely relevant and real discussion about concussions in youth sports Athletes and professional coaches who have participated in the formation of this book include two time Olympic gold medalist soccer player Kate Markgraf former NHL Team Canada head coach Andy Murray champion X Games snowboarder Ellery Hollingsworth along with an array of youth parents coaches and athletes from across the country

The Impact of Internal and External Influences on Memory and their Relevance to Legal Decisions Fabiana Battista, Antonietta Curci, Ivan

Mangiulli, Henry Otgaar, 2024-08-02 The fallibility of memory has been often demonstrated. A plethora of studies has focused on external influences that can affect memory reports such as suggestive questioning. Adopting different paradigms e.g. misinformation, memory conformity, the recurrent pattern of findings of these studies is that suggestion can make people prone to falsely recall details that were never experienced i.e. commission errors, false details. In addition, suggestion can make them unable to recall truly experienced events or event-related details. However, internal influences can also affect memory. One such internal influence is deception. In the last decade, several studies have investigated how memory can be affected by deception. Specifically, these studies have shown that a person who has intentionally deceived the listener about an experienced event subsequently when the person comes forward with the truth shows an impaired memory for such an event. This line of research examined the detrimental effects on memory by taking into account different strategies to deceive e.g. false denials, feigned amnesia, and fabrication and found that the memory outcomes due to deception can vary based on the strategy used to deceive. A number of studies has also demonstrated that another type of deception known as self-deception can influence our memory. This strategy relies on the act of deceiving our own selves and seems to reduce the recall of negative memories. The understanding of the effects of external e.g. suggestion and internal e.g. deception, self-deception on memory is important not only in order to gain more fundamental information on how memory works but also because of the relevance of memory functioning within the legal context. Memory distortions, for example, inaccurate eyewitness testimony can lead to impactful legal decisions such as wrongful convictions. Several studies have underlined the harmful consequences of distorted statements. Additional support is found in databases from various worldwide associations who strive to obtain fair justice for people involved in wrongful convictions cases, for instance www.innocenceproject.org. Therefore, it is important that researchers continue to provide evidence on the mnemonic impact of internal and external factors that influence legal practitioners to help avoid miscarriages of justice. Journal of Marketing, 2006 Apr issues for 1940-42 include Papers and proceedings of the semi-annual Dec meeting of the American Marketing Association 1939-41.

Selling Science Stephen E. Mawdsley, 2016-08 Today when many parents seem reluctant to have their children vaccinated even with long-proven medications, the Salk vaccine trial which enrolled millions of healthy children to test an unproven medical intervention seems nothing short of astonishing. In Selling Science medical historian Stephen E. Mawdsley recounts the untold story of the first large clinical trial to control polio using healthy children: 55,000 healthy children revealing how this long-forgotten incident cleared the path for Salk's later trial. Mawdsley describes how in the early 1950s Dr. William Hammon and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis launched a pioneering medical experiment on a previously untried scale. Conducted on over 55,000 healthy children in Texas, Utah, Iowa, and Nebraska, this landmark study assessed the safety and effectiveness of a blood component, gamma globulin, to prevent paralytic polio. The value of the proposed experiment was questioned by many prominent health professionals as it harbored potential health risks but as

Mawdsley points out compromise and coercion moved it forward And though the trial returned dubious results it was presented to the public as a triumph and used to justify a federally sanctioned mass immunization study on thousands of families between 1953 and 1954 Indeed the concept conduct and outcome of the GG study were sold to health professionals medical researchers and the public at each stage At a time when most Americans trusted scientists their mutual encounter under the auspices of conquering disease was shaped by politics marketing and at times deception Drawing on oral history interviews medical journals newspapers meeting minutes and private institutional records Selling Science sheds light on the ethics of scientific conduct and on the power of marketing to shape public opinion about medical experimentation
