The Short Story in South Africa Rebecca Fasselt, Corinne Sandwith, 2022-03-24 This book considers the key critical interventions on short story writing in South Africa written in English since the year 2000 The short story genre whilst often marginalised in national literary canons has been central to the trajectory of literary history in South Africa In recent years the short story has undergone a significant renaissance with new collections and young writers making a significant impact on the contemporary literary scene and subgenres such as speculative fiction erotic fiction flash fiction and queer fiction expanding rapidly in popularity This book examines the role of the short story genre in reflecting or championing new developments in South African writing and the ways in which traditional boundaries and definitions of the short story in South Africa have been reimaged in the present Drawing together a range of critical interventions including scholarly articles interviews and personal reflective pieces the volume traces some of the aesthetic and thematic continuities and discontinuities in the genre and sheds new light on questions of literary form Finally the book considers the place of the short story in twenty first century writing and interrogates the ways in which the short story form may contribute to or recast ideas of the post apartheid or post transitional The perfect guide to contemporary short story writing in South Africa this book will be essential reading for researchers of African literature

The Apartheid City and Beyond David M. Smith, 2003-09-02 Apartheid as legislated racial separation substantially changed the South African urban scene Race group areas remodelled the cities while the creation of homelands mini states and the pass laws controlling population migration constrained urbanization itself In the mid 1980s the old system having proved economically inefficient and politically divisive was replaced by a new policy of orderly urbanization This sought to accelerate industrialization and cultural change by relaxing the constraints on urbanization imposed by state planning The result was further political instability and a quarter of the black or African population housed in shanty towns Negotiations between the Nationalist government and the African National Congress are working towards the end of the old apartheid system Yet the negation of apartheid is only the beginning of the creation of a new society The vested interests and entrenched ideologies behind the existing pattern of property ownership survive the abolition of apartheid laws Beyond race class and ethnicity will continue to divide urban life If the cities of South Africa are to serve all the people the accelerating process of urbanization must be brought under control and harnessed to a new purpose The contributors to this volume draw on a broad range of experience and disciplines to present a variety of perspectives on urban South Africa

Fact - Fiction - "faction" Horst Zander,1999 The South African Short Story in English, 1920-2010 Marta Fossati,2024-09-05 Through detailed close readings alongside investigations into the history of print culture Marta Fossati traces the development of the South African short story in English from the late 1920s to the first decade of the twenty first century She examines a selection of short stories by important Black South African writers Rolfes and Herbert Dhlomo Peter Abrahams Can Themba Alex La Guma Mtutuzeli Matshoba Ahmed Essop and Zo Wicomb with an alertness to the dialogue between ethics and aesthetics performed by these texts This new history of Black short fiction problematises and interrogates the often polarised readings of Black literature in South Africa that can be torn between notions of literariness protest and journalism Due to material constraints short fiction in South Africa circulated first and foremost through local print media which Fossati analyses in detail to show the cross fertilisation between journalism and the short story While rooted in the South African context the short stories considered also hold a translocal dimension allowing us to explore the ethical and aesthetic practice of intertextuality These are writings that complicate the aesthetics ethics binary generic classifications and the categories of the literary and the political Theoretically eclectic in its approach although largely underpinned by a narratological analysis The South African Short Story in English 1920 2010 When Aesthetics Meets Ethics offers a fresh perspective on the South African short story in English spotlighting several hitherto marginalised figures in South African literary studies
