Biofuels, Land Grabbing and Food Security in Africa Prosper B. Matondi, Kjell Havnevik, Atakilte Beyene, 2011-06-09 The issue of biofuels has already been much debated but the focus to date has largely been on Latin America and deforestation this highly original work breaks fresh ground in looking at the African perspective Most African governments see biofuels as having the potential to increase agricultural productivity and export incomes and thus strengthen their national economies improving energy balances and rural employment At the same time climate change may be addressed through reduction of green house gas emissions There are however a number of uncertainties mounting that challenge this scenario Using cutting edge empirical case studies this knowledge gap is addressed in a variety of chapters examining the effects of large scale biofuel production on African agriculture In particular land grabbing and food security issues are scrutinised both of which have become vital topics in regard to the environmental and developmental governance of African countries A revealing book for anyone wishing to understand the startling impact of biofuels and land grabbing on Africa The Informal Economy, SME's, and the 'missing Middle' in Zimbabwe Mark Simpson, 2010 Agriculture in Urban Planning Mark

Redwood, 2012 This volume by graduate researchers working in urban agriculture examines concrete strategies to integrate city farming into the urban landscape Drawing on original field work in cities across the rapidly urbanizing global south the book examines the contribution of urban agriculture and city farming to livelihoods and food security Case studies cover food production diversification for robust and secure food provision the socio economic and agronomic aspects of urban composting urban agriculture as a viable livelihood strategy strategies for integrating city farming into urban landscapes and the complex social ecological networks of urban agriculture Other case studies look at public health aspects including the impact of pesticides micro biological risks pollution and water contamination on food production and people Ultimately the book calls on city farmers politicians environmentalists and regulatory bodies to work together to improve the long term sustainability of urban farming as a major secure source of food and employment for urban populations Published with IDRC

Uniting on Food Assistance Christopher Barrett, Julia Steets, 2011-12-20 This book chronicles the most essential causes and implications of these trends which have expanded international food assistance well beyond the simple shipment of donated food aid commodities We pay particular attention to how these trends shape and are shaped by European Union EU and United States U S food assistance policy and practice and highlight the principles to which donors can adhere to move international food assistance forward African Refugees Toyin Falola, Olajumoke Yacob-Haliso, 2023-01-03 African Refugees is a comprehensive overview of the context causes and consequences of refugee lives discussing issues policies and solutions for African refugees around the world It covers overarching topics such as human rights policy frameworks refugee protection and durable solutions as well as less studied topics such as refugee youths refugee camps LGBTQ refugees urban refugees and refugee women It also takes on rare but emergent topics such as citizenship and the creativity of African refugees Toyin Falola and Olajumoke Yacob Haliso showcase the voices and experiences of individual refugees through the sweep of history to tell the African refugee story from the historical past through current developments covering the full range of experience from the causes of flight to living in exile all while maintaining a persistent focus on the complicated search for solutions African Refugees recognizes African agency and contributions in pursuit of solutions for African refugees over time but avoids the pitfalls of the colonial gaze where refugees are perpetually pathologized and Africa is always the sole cause of its own problems seeking to complicate these narratives by recognizing African refugee issues within exploitative global colonial and neo colonial systems of power Global education monitoring report, 2019

UNESCO,2018-12-03 The Report examines the education impact of migration and displacement across all population movements within and across borders voluntary and forced for employment and education It also reviews progress on education in the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development In view of increasing diversity the report analyses how education can build inclusive societies and help people move beyond tolerance and learn to live together Daily Graphic Yaw
