Abstract: Refugees' mental health and well-being are affected by the conditions of their flight and by the conditions of their reception in the host country. The purpose of this study was to assess the mental health and well-being of refugees in the host country. The study was conducted in the form of a cross-sectional survey. The sample consisted of 100 refugees who had been in the host country for at least 12 months. The results of the study showed that the majority of the refugees had experienced mental health problems, and that the majority of the refugees had experienced well-being problems. The results also showed that the majority of the refugees had experienced both mental health and well-being problems. The study concluded that the conditions of flight and the conditions of reception in the host country are important factors that affect refugees' mental health and well-being.

Nippon Kaigi Thierry Guthmann,2024-03-19 This book examines political nationalism in Japan through an in depth analysis of the organisation ideology and influence of Nippon Kaigi the most significant nationalist pressure group in contemporary Japan Starting with a review of political nationalism in Japan since 1945 the book then analyses the ideological corpus of Nippon Kaigi highlighting its unity and coherence as a pressure group and assessing the real influence it exerts on Japanese political life It goes on to examine the relationship between religion and nationalism and the key role played by various religious organisations within this pressure group explaining why religious movements that should be in competition with each other manage to collaborate within Nippon Kaigi Finally the book turns to the characteristics of Japanese nationalist circles and an assessment of the rise of nationalism in contemporary Japan Featuring extensive firsthand interviews with individuals and organisations close to Japanese nationalist circles this book will appeal to students and scholars of Japanese politics nationalism and the sociology of religion Affective Nationalism Elisabeth Miltz,2019 This book develops the concept of affective nationalism the banal affirmation of the national emerging in moments of encounter between different bodies and objects Based on eight months of ethnographic field work conducted between 2012 and 2014 in

Azerbaijan the book examines the ways in which moments of bodily encounter perpetuate banal enactments and experiences of national belonging and alienation The book advances scholarship on nationalism and affect by suggesting to study nationalisms not as given but as potential and emergent experiences of differently positioned bodies in a world divided into nations
