Anthropological Locations Boundaries And Grounds Of A Field Science:

Anthropological Locations Akhil Gupta, James Ferguson, 1997-08-28 A vitally important contribution to anthropology Most importantly although the critique is sharply directed the tone of the volume is constructive rather than destructive or deconstructive Joan Vincent Barnard College A rich thought provoking and highly original collection The research presented is new and the perspectives original This collection of essays casts significant new light on phenomena and practices which have long been central to anthropology while at the same time introducing new substantive materials Don Brenneis University of California Santa Cruz Anthropological Locations Akhil Gupta, James Ferguson, 1997 A rich thought provoking and highly original collection The research presented is new and the perspectives original This collection of essays casts significant new light on phenomena and practices which have long been central to anthropology while at the same time introducing new substantive materials Don Brenneis University of California Santa Cruz A vitally important contribution to anthropology Most importantly although the critique is sharply directed the tone of the volume is constructive rather than destructive or deconstructive Joan Vincent Barnard College A rich thought provoking and highly original collection The research presented is new and the perspectives original This collection of essays casts significant new light on phenomena and practices which have long been central to anthropology while at the same time introducing new substantive materials Don Brenneis University of California Santa Cruz Ethnographic Practice in the Present Marit Melhuus, Jon P. Mitchell, Helena Wulff, 2010 In its assessment of the current state of play of ethnographic practice in social anthropology this volume explores the challenges that changing social forms and changing understandings of the field pose to contemporary ethnographic methods These challenges include the implications of the remarkable impact social anthropology is having on neighboring disciplines such as history sociology cultural studies human geography and linguistics as well as the potential costs of this success for the discipline Contributors also discuss how the ethnographic method is influenced by current institutional contexts and historical traditions across a range of settings Here ethnography is featured less as a methodological tool box or technique but rather as a subject on which to reflect Histories of Anthropology Gabriella D'Agostino, Vincenzo Matera, 2025-04-09 This edited volume presents for the first time a history of anthropology regarding not only the well known European and American traditions but also lesser known traditions extending its scope beyond the Western world It focuses on the results of these traditions in the present Taking into account the distinction between empire building and nation building anthropology introduced by G Stocking and taken up by U Hannerz the book investigates different histories of anthropology especially in ex colonial and marginal contexts It highlights how the hegemonic anthropologies have been accepted and assimilated in local contexts which approaches have been privileged by institutions and academies in different locations how the anthropological approach has been modelled and adapted according to specific knowledge requirements related to the cultural features of different areas and which schools emerge as the most consolidated today Each chapter presents a cultural history of one of the historical cultural and geo political contexts that influenced and produced the specific disciplinary traditions The chapters highlight the local contributions to the discipline the influences that the world centres have on the peripheries but also the ways in which the peripheries have learned from the centres in order to re elaborate meaningful or otherwise recognisable disciplinary lines Culture, Power, Place Akhil Gupta, James Ferguson, 1997-07-24 Anthropology has traditionally relied on a spatially localized society or culture as its object of study The essays in Culture Power Place demonstrate how in recent years this anthropological convention and its attendant assumptions about identity and cultural difference have undergone a series of important challenges In light of increasing mass migration and the transnational cultural flows of a late capitalist postcolonial world the contributors to this volume examine shifts in anthropological thought regarding issues of identity place power and resistance This collection of both new and well known essays begins by critically exploring the concepts of locality and community first as they have had an impact on contemporary global understandings of displacement and mobility and second as they have had a part in defining identity and subjectivity itself With sites of discussion ranging from a democratic Spain to a Puerto Rican barrio in North Philadelphia from Burundian Hutu refugees in Tanzania to Asian landscapes in rural California from the silk factories of Hangzhou to the long sought after home of the Palestinians these essays examine the interplay between changing schemes of categorization and the discourses of difference on which these concepts are based The effect of the placeless mass media on our understanding of place and the forces that make certain identities viable in the world and others not are also discussed as are the intertwining of place making identity and resistance as they interact with the meaning and consumption of signs Finally this volume offers a self reflective look at the social and political location of anthropologists in relation to the questions of culture power and place the effect of their participation in what was once seen as their descriptions of these constructions Contesting the classical idea of culture as the shared the agreed upon and the orderly Culture Power Place is an important intervention in the disciplines of anthropology and cultural studies Contributors George E Bisharat John Borneman Rosemary J Coombe Mary M Crain James Ferguson Akhil Gupta Kristin Koptiuch Karen Leonard Richard Maddox Lisa H Malkki John Durham Peters Lisa Rofel Leading Works in Law and Anthropology Alice Margaria, Larissa Vetters, 2024-07-16 The academic disciplines of law and sociocultural anthropology have a long but at times contentious history of drawing on each other in order to study and understand law and human experience in its diverse manifestations This volume provides an innovative and engaging format by giving established and emerging scholars from diverse jurisdictions the opportunity to discuss and reflect upon what they consider to be a leading work The collection offers a unique multi perspectival reconsideration of the intellectual history of the field whilst also addressing issues that are at the core of interdisciplinary legal research Contributions shed light on the changing nature of cross disciplinary research and collaboration trace how disciplinary understandings of normativity have cross fertilised each other and reflect on choices

taken within research on law and anthropology along a continuum of theoretical reflection critique engagement and practical application The book elaborates on the nature and the boundaries of law and anthropology research as well as on its likely future development in light of the insights shared by contributors on their chosen leading works The book will make fascinating reading for researchers and academics in both law and anthropology Chapter 1 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Bronisław Malinowski and His Legacy in Contemporary Social Sciences and Humanities Grażyna Kubica, Dariusz Brzeziński, 2024-06-14 As one of the most renowned figures in the history of anthropology Bronisław Malinowski is recognised as having been central to the development of the discipline with interpretations of his thought usually drawing attention to his work in founding the approach of functionalism and his innovative method of intensive field research This book offers a decisive extension of Malinowski's achievement referring to the accomplishments of present day social sciences and humanities and the debts that they owe to Malinowski's oeuvre Bringing together eminent scholars in such fields as social anthropology sociology law cultural studies literary and theatre studies and art history this book emphasises the importance of Malinowski's theoretical and methodological insights as a treasure trove of inspiration for contemporary researchers A critical commentary on the life work and legacy of Bronisław Malinowski it sheds light on his academic work while personal documents many of which are not well known or are completely unknown in the Anglophone sphere prove their fundamental importance for understanding his oeuvre and the intellectual connections between his work and the work of other most prominent intellectuals of the 20th and 21st centuries It will therefore appeal to scholars across the social sciences and humanities with interests in the history of anthropology and sociology and fundamental questions of theory and research methodology

Anthropology in the City Italo Pardo, Giuliana B. Prato, 2016-05-23 With half of humanity already living in towns and cities and that proportion expected to increase in the coming decades society both Western and non Western is fast becoming urban and even mega urban As such research in urban settings is evidently timely and of great importance Anthropology in the City brings together a leading team of anthropologists to address the complex methodological and theoretical challenges posed by field research in urban settings clearly identifying the significance of the anthropological paradigm in urban research and its centrality both to mainstream academic debates and to society more broadly With essays from experts on wide ranging ethnographic research from fields as diverse as China Europe India Latin and North America and South East Asia this book demonstrates the contribution that empirically based anthropological analysis can make to our understanding of our increasingly urban world

Non-humans in Social Science Petr Gibas, Karolína Pauknerová, Marco Stella, 2012-04-01 Ideas of dead inert space non living machinelike reflexive controlled bodies and passive meaningless things are very modern At the very heart of the program of modernity resource exploitation and consumption is the idea that non humans have no agency they are simply resources to be manipulated and exploited at our will Mostly leaving aside the more and more evident ethical concerns of this worldview and this setting of the human non human boundary this volume attempts to explore what social sciences have to say about the relationship between the human and non human The intention of this book is to offer a non human perspective We realize that it is sometimes difficult to say whether the outcome of such a perspective would be just a shallow tendency to anthropomorphize or whether we could reach some of the previously unseen properties of non humans Being aware of the dangers this volume puts together different case studies that are more or less inspired by this non human perspective The aim is to explore what has been for a long time put aside and to provide new insights new revelations that can lead social science to undiscovered or hidden realms The outcome of this thrilling adventure can in the end be a discovery that the role of natural and social sciences or even more the character of the nature culture dichotomy would have to be re evaluated

The Routledge Handbook of Human Research Ethics and Integrity in Australia Bruce M. Smyth, Michael A. Martin, Mandy Downing, 2024-10-23 The Routledge Handbook of Human Research Ethics and Integrity in Australia highlights why it is important to look at the subject of human research ethics and integrity within the Australian context and what the Australian perspective can offer to all researchers in the social sciences and humanities globally Australia has one of the world's most rigorous ethics governance frameworks This edited collection comprises 35 chapters compiled with the aim of presenting human research ethics and integrity in a way that can be readily understood and applied by undergraduate and postgraduate students early career and seasoned researchers Human Research Ethics Committee members and those who work in the administration of human research ethics Chapters that focus on research ethics with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people are likely to be of great interest to an international audience interested in Indigenous research ethics more broadly This collection will act as a prism through which ethical first principles can be seen afresh from the vista of contemporary Australian research ethics frameworks The issues raised in this collection are likely to resonate beyond the Australian context and will speak to researchers and educators in a variety of settings who find themselves grappling with thorny ethical issues ranging from the rapid evolution of data security and privacy concerns to research about cultural heritage and ethical approaches to Indigenous cultural and intellectual property
