

Chapter 14: Gene Expression: From Gene to Protein

- The DNA inherited by an organism leads to specific traits by dictating the synthesis of proteins and of RNA molecules involved in protein synthesis.
 - Proteins are the link between genotype and phenotype
- Gene expression: process by which DNA directs synthesis of proteins or in some cases, just RNAs
 - include two stages: transcription and translation

14.1: Genes specify via transcription and translation

- 1902-physician Archibald Garrod first suggested that genes dictate phenotypes through enzymes, proteins that catalyze chemical reactions in the cell
 - Postulated that symptoms of a disease reflect inability to make a particular enzyme
- Cells synthesize and degrade organic molecules via metabolic pathways that is catalyzed by enzyme

Nutritional Mutants: Scientific Inquiry

- Beadle and Edward Tatum began studying the haploid bread mold Neurospora crassa.
 - They studied mutations that altered the ability of the fungus to grow on minimal medium. In order to observe a change in a mutant's phenotype, they needed to disable one allele of a protein-coding gene.
- Beadle and Tatum generated different "nutritional mutants" of Neurospora cells, each of which was unable to synthesize a particular essential nutrient.
- One gene-one polypeptide hypothesis: each gene is responsible for the synthesis of a single polypeptide (originally it was enzyme and then protein but it was modified)
- Genes provide instructions for making specific proteins, but RNA is the bridge between DNA and protein synthesis
- Getting from DNA to protein requires two stages:
 - Transcription and translation
- Transcription: synthesis of RNA using information in the DNA
 - Transcription produces mRNA
- Translation: synthesis of a polypeptide (protein) using information in the mRNA
 - Occurs in ribosome- they facilitate the linking of amino acids into polypeptide chains
- Bacteria vs eukaryotes:
 - Flow of genetic information within the cells is different with bacteria because they do not have nuclei. Therefore, nuclear membranes do not separate bacterial
