Gordon,2005-09-30 This is an indictment of current management and education practices that are creating a shortage of skilled labour The march of technological development and globalisation continues to put pressure on all national economies bringing opportunity for some and marginalisation for others Nations will need to confront two coming economic shocks a rise in the retired population and a shortage of young well educated people to fill a rising number of highly skilled technology related jobs Ed Gordon marshals vast amounts of data to illustrate how these trends are quickly converging creating a labour vacuum with potentially disastrous consequences In The 2010 Meltdown Gordon sounds a wake up call to anyone with a stake in our economic future Beyond the demographic issues he notes that such cultural factors as Wall Street s obsession with short term results and the neglect of maths and science skills at school are contributing to a fundamental mismatch between labour supply and demand But the news is not all grim Gordon highlights innovative initiatives in training education and community development in the U S and around the world that can serve as models for positive
