OECD Economic Surveys: South Africa 2022 OECD, 2022-08-25 The COVID-19 crisis has weakened an already fragile economy South Africa's growth underperformed during the past decade GDP per capita was already lower in 2019 than in 2008 Unemployment remains high at around 35% and youth unemployment even exceeds 50% In the meantime spending pressures are mounting to close the financing gap in health infrastructure and higher education

Workers' Education in the Global South Linda Cooper, 2020-03-31 Workers Education in the Global South explores the historical development of radical workers education in South Africa as one particular strand within the broader tradition of radical adult education Drawing on the theoretical resources of Activity Theory Gramsci Freire and others it investigates the key features of workers education as a form of pedagogy with a unique history and logic of practice and explores how it has been shaped by its location within labour and other social movements as well as its southern location within the global political economy Successive chapters explore its counter-hegemonic but contested purposes its knowledge practices that seek to overcome the historical divide between intellectual and manual labour and a pedagogy which often assumes didactic forms but which retains a democratic character through its embeddedness in working class experience It illustrates the rich processes of experiential learning that happen through day to day organising in workers cultural activity as well as through mass action It argues that this tradition of workers education currently stands at a crossroads as global neoliberal market policies and post apartheid education and training policies threaten to undermine its radical social vision and concludes by offering ideas on how this tradition of radical workers education might be renewed

Change Management in TVET Colleges Kraak, Andre, Paterson, Andrew, 2016-07-25 The Technical and Vocational Education and Training TVET college environment is marked by increasingly stark juxtapositions between what needs to be achieved in the post school education sector and the increasing difficulty of current conditions The triple challenge of poverty inequality and unemployment weighs heavily on the social political and economic fabric of the country and expectations are high that the TVET colleges can make a pivotal contribution to counter these challenges Despite laudable increases in TVET enrolment the education system needs to work harder to accommodate the weight of demand for post school further education and training FET band qualifications from young people not in education employment or training At the same time it is vital to secure adequate quality in TVET programmes which depend so much on the competence and commitment of college lecturers This collection offers a set of research papers that provide new analytic and empirical material on The political economy of TVET types in different countries which by comparison illuminate the South African case A periodisation of government interventions in the TVET sector over the last three decades The unsettled state and status of TVET lecturers in relation to their job requirements and conditions of service The halting evolution of collegial relationships between college lecturers towards higher collegiality Employer expectations of college graduates and how colleges are responding and An analysis of the outcomes of a college improvement intervention in Limpopo and the Eastern Cape This book will offer valuable information and insights for decision makers as well as analysts of institutional change concerning links between education and economic growth with particular regard to TVET graduates employment rates

Relational Theory Christine M. Koggel,Ami Harbin,Jennifer J. Llewellyn,2025-04-18 Relational theory starts from the ontological fact of our being in networks of relationships and draws out what this means for theories of knowledge and for moral and political theory This book uses insights from feminist relational theory to outline the ontological epistemological and moral political implications of this theoretical approach The chapters in this volume focus on relationships of power and oppression how these relationships shape who is taken to have knowledge and who is dismissed or ignored and what all of this means for theories of equality justice and moral and political theory more generally A focus on relationships of power and oppression opens up an examination into structures such as colonialism and capitalism that shape interconnected networks of relationships between humans and human and non human entities and ecosystems This volume which now includes eight additional chapters published both before and after the original special issue offers a significant step forward in the development of feminist relational theory Following early forays in identifying and criticizing mainstream liberal theory in the Western tradition chapters in this collection draw on approaches by anti oppression theorists found in critical disability critical race anti colonial decolonial and non Western theories to further broaden the descriptions and analyses of relationships and networks of relationships and to extend and advance feminist relational theory and its applications The chapters in this book were originally published in the Journal of Global Ethics

Development Planning in South Africa John Reynolds,2018-06-15 Celebrated as a beacon of democracy and reconciliation many people in South Africa continue to live in severe poverty particularly in the Eastern Cape Province Backed by the United Nations Development Programme the Eastern Cape's provincial government consequently launched an historically ambitious programme the Provincial Growth and Development Plan aimed at tackling the province's poverty unemployment and inequality over a ten year period in a radical policy overhaul Drawing on the author's first hand engagement with the planning process Development Planning in South Africa is an empirically rich study that utilises a strategic relational approach to explore the ways in which this unprecedented challenge was negotiated and eventually undermined by the South African state The first work of its kind the book provides an indispensable micro level study with profound implications for how state power is understood to be organised and expressed in state policy Relevant beyond South Africa to policy implementation in both developing and developed states globally the book is essential reading for students and scholars of government studies political economy development policy studies and social movements
