State of M&E in Malawi ,2014 International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties Annemarie Fritz,Vitor Geraldi Haase,Pekka Räsänen,2019-01-30 This comprehensive volume provides teachers researchers and education professionals with cutting edge knowledge developed in the last decades by the educational behavioural and neurosciences integrating cognitive developmental and socioeconomic approaches to deal with the problems children face in learning mathematics The neurocognitive mechanisms and the cognitive processes underlying acquisition of arithmetic abilities and their significance for education have been the subject of intense research in the last few decades but the most part of this research has been conducted in non applied settings and there s still a deep discrepancy between the level of scientific knowledge and its implementation into actual educational settings Now it s time to bring the results from the laboratory to the classroom Apart from bringing the theoretical discussions to educational settings the volume presents a wide range of methods for early detection of children with risks in mathematics learning and strategies to develop effective interventions based on innovative cognitive test instruments It also provides insights to translate research knowledge into public policies in order to address socioeconomic issues And it does so from an international perspective dedicating a whole section to the cultural diversity of mathematics learning difficulties in different parts of the world All of this makes the International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties an essential tool for those involved in the daily struggle to prepare the future generations to succeed in the global knowledge society Impact of Disruptive Technologies on the Socio-Economic Development of Emerging Countries Mtenzi, Fredrick Japhet,Oreku, George S.,Lupiana, Dennis M.,2023-06-12 Global emergencies such as the COVID 19 pandemic and environmental concerns have challenged the readiness of societies and forced them to operate in more innovative ways In response the world has witnessed new technologies emerge and researchers continually finding better solutions to cope with these situations It is crucial that these innovations are investigated so that we may better the world during times of crisis Impact of Disruptive Technologies on the Socio Economic Development of Emerging Countries provides relevant case studies innovative disruptive applications and the latest empirical research findings in the digital technology space Additionally it provides accounts of the design development and usage of digital solutions that have an impact on addressing societal problems in emerging economies Covering topics such as e social work social media addiction and adaptive testing this premier reference source is an essential resource for government officials entrepreneurs politicians business leaders students and educators of higher education sociologists librarians researchers and academicians Primary Education in Malawi Vaikalathur Ravishankar,Safaa El-Tayeb El-Kogali,Deepa Sankar,Nobuyuki Tanaka,Nelly Rakoto-Tiana,2016-04-06 The objective of this report is to inform an improved understanding of expenditure allocations and processes the quality of service delivery in terms of inputs and outputs and educational outcomes associated with primary education in Malawi The report will also

The findings of this report are intended to inform discussions as to how to strengthen the government program and associated financing mechanisms to enhance the likelihood of success. Religious Education in Malawi and Ghana Yonah Matemba, Richardson Addai-Mununkum, 2021-03-15. Religious Education in Malawi and Ghana contributes to the literature on opportunities and complexities of inclusive approaches to Religious Education RE. It analyses how RE in Malawi and Ghana engages with religious pluralisation and provides a compelling case for the need to re-evaluate current approaches in the conceptualisation, curriculum design and delivery of RE in schools in Malawi and Ghana. The book explains how a pervasive tradition of selection involving exclusion and inclusion of religion in RE leads to misrepresentation and in turn to misclusion of non-normative religions where religion is included but marginalized and misrepresented. The book contributes to wider discourse of RE on opportunities as well as complexities of post-confessional approaches including the need for RE to avoid perpetuating the continued legitimisation of selected religions and in the process the delegitimization of the religious other as a consequence of misrepresentation and misclusion. Inspired by Braten's methodology for comparative studies in RE, the book draws on two qualitative studies from Malawi and Ghana to highlight the pervasive problems of religious misclusion in RE. This book will be of great interest for academics, scholars and post graduate students in the fields of RE, African education, educational policy, international education and comparative education. Halvorsen: Sharing Knowledge, Transforming Societies, 2023-01-10. In June 2016, the Norwegian Programme for Capacity Development in Higher Education and Research for Development (Norhed) hosted a conference on the theme of knowledge for development in an attempt to shift the focus of the programme towards its academic content. This book follows up on that event. The conference highlighted the usefulness of presenting the value of Norhed's different projects to the world, showing how they improve knowledge and expand access to it through co-operation. A wish for more meta-knowledge was also expressed and this gives rise to the following questions: Is this way of co-operating contributing to the growth of independent post-colonial knowledge production in the South based on analyses of local data and experiences in ways that are relevant to our shared future? Does the growth of academic independence as well as greater equality and the ability to develop theories different to those imposed by the better-off parts of the world give rise to deeper understandings and better explanations? Does it at least spread the ability to translate existing methodologies in ways that add meaning to observations of local context and data and thus enhance the relevance and influence of the academic profession locally and internationally? This book, in its varied contributions, does not provide definite answers to these questions but it does show that Norhed is a step in the right direction. Norhed is an attempt to fund collaboration within and between higher education institutions. We know that both the uniqueness of this programme and ideas of how to better utilise the learning and experience emerging from it call for more elaboration and broader dissemination before we can offer further guidance on how to do things better. This book is a first
