Thomas David Parker

2014 Memorandum Of Economic Trial Exam Paper:

Avoiding The Terrorist Trap: Why Respect For Human Rights Is The Key To Defeating Terrorism Thomas David Parker, 2019-06-17 This book makes uncomfortable reading both in its detailed analysis of terrorism and its causes and in the critique of state responses particularly in modern times It is unusual to have such a defence of a human rights framework from a counter terrorism practitioner rather than from within the legal fraternity It is this that makes the case even more persuasive All who are involved in counter terrorism strategy should consider carefully the arguments put forward Global Policy Journal For more than 150 years nationalist populist Marxist and religious terrorists have all been remarkably consistent and explicit about their aims provoke states into over reacting to the threat they pose then take advantage of the divisions in society that result Yet state after state falls into the trap that terrorists have set for them Faced with a major terrorist threat governments seem to reach instinctively for the most coercive tools at their disposal and in doing so risk exacerbating the situation This policy response seems to be driven in equal parts by a lack of understanding in the true nature of the threat an exaggerated faith in the use of force and a lack of faith that democratic values are sufficiently flexible to allow for an effective counter terrorism response Drawing on a wealth of data from both historical and contemporary sources Avoiding the Terrorist Trap addresses common misconceptions underpinning flawed counter terrorist policies identifies the core strategies that guide terrorist operations consolidates the latest research on the underlying drivers of terrorist violence and then demonstrates why a counter terrorism strategy grounded in respect for human rights and the rule of law is the most effective approach to defeating terrorism

Measuring African Development Morten Jerven, 2016-04-14 The chief economist for the World Bank's Africa region Shanta Devarajan delivered a devastating assessment of the capacity of African states to measure development in his 2013 article Africa's Statistical Tragedy Is there a statistical tragedy unfolding in Africa now If so then examining the roots of the problem of provision of statistics in poor economies is certainly of great importance This book on measuring African development in the past and in the present draws on the historical experience of colonial French West Africa Ghana Sudan Mauritania and Tanzania and the more contemporary experiences of Ethiopia and the Democratic Republic of Congo The authors each reflect on the changing ways statistics represent African economies and how they are used to govern them This book was published as a special issue of the Canadian Journal of Development Studies

George Humphrey, Charles Wilson and Eisenhower's War on Spending James Worthen, 2019-09-09 The first Republican president since the Great Depression Dwight Eisenhower was the victorious supreme allied commander of World War II's European theater but a political novice when he moved into the White House in 1953 To help make domestic policy he recruited two of the country's richest businessmen Cleveland industrialist George Humphrey and General Motors president Charles Wilson with the goals of ensuring American postwar prosperity and developing a defense posture against the nuclear threat of the Soviet Union This book provides the first detailed examination of how Humphrey and Wilson helped shape Eisenhower's policies and priorities Persuasive and charming Treasury Secretary Humphrey was obsessed with cutting spending Defense Secretary Wilson whose departmental funding comprised most of the federal budget bore the brunt of Humphrey's anti spending campaign while struggling to master his brief and control the restive military bureaucracy The frugality of the Humphrey Wilson years manifested in an unambitious domestic agenda and a military that seemed to lag behind the Soviets in key areas leading to disastrous Republican losses in the elections of 1958 and 1960 Collected Papers James Meade V4 Susan Howson,2014-04-23 First Published in 2004 This fourth volume of The Collected Papers of James Meade is different in form and content from the previous three volumes It consists of a single previously unpublished work the diary of Meade's life in the Economic Section of the Cabinet Office which he kept for nearly two years This covers the time where he was appointed to succeed Lionel Robbins as Director of the Section at the end of the Second World War until September 1946 This period encompasses the last few months of the war in Europe and the first year of peace and of a majority Labour government under Prime Minister Clement Attlee Routledge Handbook of Asian Law Christoph Antons,2016-11-03 Law and legal institutions in East Asia's high growth episodes Conclusion East Asia law and development and today's developing countries Chapter 4 A new China model for the era post global financial crisis Legal dimensions Introduction The East Asian model its progeny and their problems The emerging post Washington post Beijing consensus PWBC Implications of the PWBC for the China model The decision in light of the PWBC The implications of the decision for legal reforms Conclusion Basic Income, Work Incentives and Job Search Behaviour Simon Watkins,2025-09-24 This book analyzes existing welfare regimes across Europe offering an exploration into how basic income principles might influence job search behaviour Drawing on time use data and fuzzy set qualitative comparative analysis it challenges assumptions about work incentives and demonstrates that institutional contexts significantly mediate welfare effects The analysis develops an innovative ideal type framework that measures how existing systems approximate basic income principles unconditionality universalism and non withdrawal of benefits Chapters explore the complex relationships between welfare design and job search intensity with a special focus on providing evidence as to whether conditionality increases job search or if certain configurations of accessibility and high participation tax rates decrease it Comparing ten European countries and counterfactual examination of Finland and the UK the book provides empirical grounding for debates often based on theoretical assumptions The resulting text provides insights for designing context appropriate strategies for basic income implementation that enhance income security while preserving individual autonomy Consumer Collective Redress in EU Law Jagna Mucha,2025-09-17 This book provides critical insights into the framework of consumer collective redress within EU law including recent changes introduced by the Representative Actions Directive EU 2020 1828 The focus is on Poland where group proceedings have been operating since 2009 The exploration of Poland's 15 year time span experience constitutes a comprehensive case study offering valuable examples and recommendations The study examines whether collective redress mechanisms can ensure effective enforcement of consumer rights and at the same time guarantee a high level of consumer protection The discussion is composed of three fundamental parts The first chapter explores the nature of collective redress from the perspective of EU law In the second chapter the book addresses the various legal mechanisms operating in the Member States and the UK that serve consumers as means of collective redress The final chapter focuses on Poland discussing the legislative framework and functioning of group proceedings in practice The discussion is enriched with specific solutions for the further development of collective redress in the EU This book covers issues that will be of interest to researchers investigating EU consumer law collective redress class actions and law enforcement more in general It will be of relevance to consumers and practitioners including attorneys and consumer organisations aiming to bring representative actions in one of the EU Member States Money, Trade and Economic Growth Harry Gordon Johnson,1962 Careless State Mark Considine,2022-10-05 The lives of all Australians are profoundly affected by the quality of social services available but a long list of royal commissions and public inquiries have revealed them to be failing In The Careless State Mark Considine shows that the preferred model of reform has failed to adapt and improve In the 1980s Australian governments faced rapidly increasing demand for services in areas like employment assistance aged care childcare and vocational education and training to respond to this challenge governments led by Bob Hawke and Paul Keating pioneered the introduction of service markets where private companies compete with public institutions and charities in newly constructed social services This choice revolution was embraced and extended by the Howard government Market choice continues to drive reform across a wide spectrum of programs and social services Considine s detailed investigation demonstrates conclusively that important aspects of the experiment with social service markets have failed Weak quality control systematic sorting and entrenched disadvantage have become the norm Private business interests and shareholders interest have often displaced established charities and commitment to quality care for all The service systems are careless leaving clients to make choices without real information or protection Considine points to alternative ways that reforms could be configured to get the best from both private and public agencies and find a new approach to save these failing services Congressional Record United States.
