Shaping the Future of Power Lina Benabdallah, 2020-07-20

China s rise to power is one of the biggest questions in International Relations theory IRT and foreign policy circles Although power has been a core concept of IRT for a long time the faces and mechanisms of power as it relates to Chinese foreign policymaking has changed the contours of that debate The rise of China and other powers across the global political arena sparks a new visibility for different kinds of encounters between states particularly between China and other Global South states These encounters are more visible to IR scholars because of the increasing influence that rising powers have in the international system This book shows that foreign policy encounters between rising powers and Global South states do not necessarily exhibit the same logics behaviors or investment strategies of Euro American hegemons Instead they have distinctive features that require new theoretical frameworks for analysis Shaping the Future of Power probes the types of power mechanisms that build diffuse and project China s power in Africa One must take into account the processes of knowledge production social capital formation and skills transfers that Chinese foreign policy directs toward African states to fully understand China s power building mechanisms The relational power framework requires these elements to capture both the material aspects and ideational people centered aspects to power By examining China's investments in human resource development programs for Africa the book reveals a vital yet undertheorized aspect of China's foreign policy making

Achieving Workers' Rights in the Global Economy Richard P. Appelbaum, Nelson Lichtenstein, 2016-06-14 The world was shocked in April 2013 when more than 1100 garment workers lost their lives in the collapse of the Rana Plaza factory complex in Dhaka It was the worst industrial tragedy in the two hundred year history of mass apparel manufacture This so called accident was in fact just waiting to happen and not merely because of the corruption and exploitation of workers so common in the garment industry In Achieving Workers Rights in the Global Economy Richard P Appelbaum and Nelson Lichtenstein argue that such tragic events as well as the low wages poor working conditions and voicelessness endemic to the vast majority of workers who labor in the export industries of the global South arise from the very nature of world trade and production Given their enormous power to squeeze prices and wages northern brands and retailers today occupy the commanding heights of global capitalism Retail dominated supply chains such as those with Walmart Apple and Nike at their heads generate at least half of all world trade and include hundreds of millions of workers at thousands of contract manufacturers from Shenzhen and Shanghai to Sao Paulo and San Pedro Sula This book offers an incisive analysis of this pernicious system along with essays that outline a set of practical guides to its radical reform

The Complacent Class Tyler Cowen, 2017-02-28 A Wall Street Journal and Washington Post Bestseller Tyler Cowen's blog Marginal Revolution is the first thing I read every morning And his brilliant new book The Complacent Class has been on my nightstand after I devoured it in one sitting I am at round the clock Cowen saturation right now Malcolm Gladwell Since Alexis de Tocqueville restlessness has been accepted as a signature American trait Our willingness to move take risks and adapt to change have produced a dynamic economy and a tradition of innovation from Ben Franklin to Steve Jobs The problem according to legendary blogger economist and best selling author Tyler Cowen is that Americans today have broken from this tradition we're working harder than ever to avoid change We're moving residences less marrying people more like ourselves and choosing our music and our mates based on algorithms that wall us off from anything that might be too new or too different Match.com matches us in love Spotify and Pandora match us in music Facebook matches us to just about everything else Of course this matching culture brings tremendous positives music we like partners who make us happy neighbors who want the same things We're more comfortable But according to Cowen there are significant collateral downsides attending this comfort among them heightened inequality and segregation and decreased incentives to innovate and create The Complacent Class argues that this cannot go on forever We are postponing change due to our near sightedness and extreme desire for comfort but ultimately this will make change when it comes harder The forces unleashed by the Great Stagnation will eventually lead to a major fiscal and budgetary crisis impossibly expensive rentals for our most attractive cities worsening of residential segregation and a decline in our work ethic The only way to avoid this difficult future is for Americans to force themselves out of their comfortable slumber to embrace their restless tradition again

Investment Promotion Agencies and Foreign Direct Investment Martin G. Kaspar, 2025-09-23 This book discusses the often underestimated role of investment promotion agencies IPAs in attracting foreign direct investment FDI Analysing the subject not only along theoretical lines and from the perspective of IPAs and governments but also through the eyes of practitioners and corporate investors it charts a more holistic picture of the FDI decision making process and its subsequent implementation An in depth analysis of national and regional IPA structures and investment promotion practises provides the reader with a broad understanding of state of the art investment promotion By adding the corporate managers perspective the reader gets a first hand impression of how widely known IPAs are in the corporate world which IPA services are sought after and which are considered less useful For corporate managers FDI projects are complex and often risky and to understand their expectations towards IPAs should further the current policy debate Given the significant sums of money spent each year on FDI incentives and given that the fortunes of nation states can be turned around on FDI as Ireland and Singapore have conclusively demonstrated a more grounded analysis of investment policies and promotion strategies is increasingly taking centre stage in policy debate The book fills a gap by providing operationally useful answers to corporate managers and thereby also furthering our understanding of FDI decision making which in turn allows governments to align their policy offerings This book is therefore a useful resource for students and researchers of international economics and business and political economy as well as policymakers Investment Promotion officials and corporate managers engaged in FDI projects

Geographers Elizabeth Baigent, André Reyes Novaes, 2018-11-15 Geographers Biobibliographical Studies Volume 37 explores the concept of distinction in geography Through the lives of six geographers working in Brazil North America Europe and R union it investigates what distinction consists of how we identify and celebrate it and how it relates to quotidian practices in the discipline The volume highlights the continuing importance of biography and the International Geographical Union in recording and assessing distinction It also considers the relevance of personal networks for the circulation and translation of distinguished geographical knowledge and how this knowledge can underpin applied projects and critical appraisal of geographical scholarship both at a national and sub national level Gendered notions of distinction are also addressed particularly through June Sheppard who found limited recognition for her work as a result of gendered expectations within the discipline and society at large By reflecting on how we locate distinguished geographers and tell their histories Geographers Biobibliographical Studies Volume 37 makes an important contribution to fostering less canonical work in historical geography
