Reconceptualising Multilingualism on African Radio Limukani Mathe, Gilbert Motsaathebe, 2025-01-31 This book redefines multilingualism via the concept of radio in Africa. Africa presents unique challenges of lingual diversity which the media still struggles to accommodate particularly when it comes to indigenous languages. Contributors argue that the linguistic realities of African radio reflect ethnic co-existence and fluidity of identity in pre-colonial, colonial and post-colonial contexts. They argue that communities consist of several majorized and minoritized indigenous languages which if closely analysed reflect a commonality of multilingualism. The book also suggests practical measures through which linguistic co-existence could be achieved and explores cases that redefine, reconceptualize and reframe multilingualism on African radio.

Business and Conflict in Fragile States Brian Ganson, Achim Wennmann, 2018-10-25 Large scale investments in fragile states in Latin America, Africa, the former Soviet Union and Asia become magnets for conflict which undermines business development and security. International policy responds with regulation, state building and institutional reform with poor and often perverse results. Caught up in old ways of thinking about conflict and fragility and an age old fight over whether multinational corporations are good or bad for peaceful development, it leaves business related conflicts in fragile states to multiply and fester. Surveying a new strategic landscape of business and conflict, Brian Ganson and Achim Wennmann conclude that neither company shareholders nor advocates for peaceful development need or should accept the growing cost of business related conflict in fragile states. Drawing on decades of experience from mainstream conflict prevention and violence reduction efforts as well as promising company practice, they show that even acute conflict is manageable when dealt with pragmatically, locally and on its own terms. The analysis and conclusions of this Adelphi book will interest policymakers, business leaders and community advocates alike, all those hoping to mitigate today's conflicts while helping to reduce fragility and build a firmer foundation for inclusive development.

Resuscitation of African Languages Isaac Mhute, Zilibele Mtumane, Vimbai Moreblessing Matiza, 2025-03-15 This book argues the case for indigenous African languages which have been stripped of their importance and are now often overshadowed both officially through governmental language policies and informally through attitudes and ideologies by former colonial languages The authors present case studies from a range of countries in the region arguing that languages tell us peoples identities and that by dropping their own languages in favour of foreign and imperialist languages they lose their culture history and identity as well The book addresses many of the challenges currently associated with African languages with the intention of influencing policy and practice in favour of their resuscitation This book will be of interest to policy makers academics and tertiary students in fields including Language Policy and Planning Language Revitalisation Heritage Language Learning Indigenous and Endangered Languages and Language Attitudes and Ideologies
