is and how the different cognitive processes associated with it complement each other. Thus this Research Topic is aimed at showcasing the latest work in the fields of CPS as well as DDM and CDC that takes a holistic approach to investigating and theorizing about these abilities. The collection of articles encompasses conceptual approaches as well as experimental and correlational studies involving established or new tools to examine CPS, DDM and CDC. This work contributes to answering questions about what strategies and what general knowledge can be transferred from one type of complex and dynamic situation to another, what learning conditions result in transferable knowledge and skills, and how these features can be trained.

Educational Digital Transformation: New Technological Challenges for Competence Development Julio Cabero Almenara, Carmen Llorente Cejudo, Antonio Palacios-Rodriguez, 2023-10-09. The COVID 19 pandemic has provided a unique opportunity to examine our understanding of the opportunities and challenges that ICTs offer to support the functioning of all aspects of education. The closure of educational institutions has forced a radical change in the practices of teachers and societies regarding the use of ICT to support teaching, learning, social relations and work in many sectors. In the training of digital skills, the instrumental mastery of ICT continues to outweigh the preparation of citizens to make constructive and safe use of technologies. After two decades of educational policies, we continue to reduce digital literacy to instrumental skills. That is, you do not learn why to use educational technologies and how or to be critical of their use. Education 4.0 seeks to develop and enhance the digital skills of students and teachers in digital teaching environments through the creation of a line of academic training programs for undergraduate, postgraduate and continuing education. This article collection welcomes contributions to improve training policies and practices in Educational Digital Transformation for educational development strategies, activities, proposals for assessment and certification of skills.

Right to Education Act Kurian, Oommen C., Parvati, Pooja, A conscious neglect of school education in the initial decades of independent India is termed by Dreze and Sen (2013) as a home-grown folly. Public services like education are key to nurture participatory growth as well as to ensure that growth improves people's living conditions. However, India's highly privatised

and compartmentalised education system largely unaccountable to the public offers very different opportunities for various social groups and perpetuates social inequalities instead of reducing them Three out of four children currently out of school in India are either Dalit 32 4% Muslim 25 7% or Adivasi 16 6% Enactment of the landmark RTE legislation has triggered significant improvements but evidence shows that quality has often been neglected While concerns regarding privatisation of education remain RTE Act offers a first step towards an educational system in India that offers access equity and inclusion of all children
