Transformative Fictions Daniel Just, 2022-07-27 Transformative Fictions World Literature and Personal Change engages with current debates in world literature over the past twenty years addressing the nature of literary influence in centers and peripheries the formation of transnational literary and pedagogical canons and the role of translation and regionalism in how we relate to texts from around the globe The author Daniel Just argues for a supranational but sub global perspective of regions that emphasizes practical reasons for reading and focuses on the potential of literary texts to stimulate personal transformation in readers One of the recurring dilemmas in these debates is the issue of delimitation of world literature The trouble with the world as a frame of reference is that no single researcher is bound to have the in depth knowledge and linguistic skills to discuss works from all countries In response this book revives literary theory and recasts it for the purposes of world literature by making a case for the continuing relevance of literature in the age of new media With the examples of fictional and nonfictional writings by Milan
