Ana 2014 Grade 9 Question Paper:

Democratic Evaluation and Democracy Donna Podems, 2017-02-01 Democratic evaluation brings a way of thinking about evaluation's role in society and in particular its role in strengthening social justice. Yet the reality of applying it and what happens when it is applied particularly outside the West is unclear. Set in South Africa, a newly formed democracy in Southern Africa, the book affords an in-depth journey that immerses a reader into the realities of evaluation and its relation to democracy. The book starts with the broader introductory chapters that set the scene for more detailed ones which bring thorough insights into national government, local government, and civil societies' experience of evaluation, democratic evaluation, and their understanding of how it contributes to strengthening democracy or not. A teaching case, the book concludes by providing guiding questions that encourage reflection, discussion, and learning that ultimately aims to inform practice and theory.

Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 Maringe, Felix, Prew, Martin, 2015-05-05 Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014: An Independent Review presents a collection of 15 important essays on different aspects of education in Gauteng since the advent of democracy in 1994. These essays talk to what a provincial education department does and how and why it does these things, whether it be about policy, resourcing, or implementing projects. Each essay is written by one or more specialist in the relevant focus area. The book is written to be accessible to the general reader as well as being informative and an essential resource for the specialist reader. It sheds light on aspects of how a provincial department operates and why and with what consequences certain decisions have been made in education over the last 20 turbulent years, both nationally and provincially. There has been no attempt to fit the book's chapters into a particular ideological or educational paradigm, and as a result, the reader will find differing views on various aspects of the Gauteng Department of Education's present and past. We leave the reader to decide to what extent the GDE has fulfilled its educational mandate over the last 20 years.

Smart University Lindsay Weinberg, 2024-10-08 How surveillance perpetuates long standing injustices woven into the fabric of higher education Higher education increasingly relies on digital surveillance in the United States Administrators consulting firms and education technology vendors are celebrating digital tools as a means of ushering in the age of smart universities By digitally monitoring and managing campus life institutions can supposedly run their services more efficiently strengthen the quality of higher education and better prepare students for future roles in the digital economy Yet in practice these initiatives often perpetuate austerity structural racism and privatization at public universities under the guise of solving higher education s most intractable problems In Smart University Lindsay Weinberg evaluates how this latest era of tech solutions and systems in our schools impacts students abilities to access opportunities and exercise autonomy on their campuses Using historical and textual analysis of administrative discourses university policies conference proceedings grant solicitations news reports tech industry marketing materials and product demonstrations Weinberg argues that these more recent transformations are best understood as part of a longer history of universities supporting the development of technologies that reproduce racial and economic injustice on their campuses and in their communities Aimed at anyone concerned with the future of surveillance on higher education Smart University empowers readers with the knowledge tools and frameworks for contesting and reimagining the role of digital technology on university campuses

Shaping Children Saskia K.

Nagel,2019-05-03 The volume offers a unique collection of articles on pediatric neuroenhancement from an international and multidisciplinary perspective In recent years the topic of neuroenhancement has become increasingly relevant in academia and practice as well as among the public While autonomous adults are free to choose neuroenhancement in children it presents its own ethical social legal and developmental issues A plethora of potential neurotechnological enhancement agents are on the market While the manifold issues surrounding the topic have been extensively discussed there is little work on the specific questions that arise in children and adolescents This book addresses this gap in the literature Next to conceptual and normative work on autonomy and self control the collection explores the implications for parenting and schooling and provides input for a discussion of public attitudes It is a valuable resource for the different academic communities confronted with questions of how to evaluate and approach enhancement in children and is of interest to neuroethicists scholars in applied ethics and neurology psychiatrists and psychologists as well as scientists developing enhancement interventions for children
