The Anatomy Museum Elizabeth Hallam, 2008 Anatomy museums around the world showcase preserved corpses in service of education and medical advancement but they are little known and have been largely hidden from the public eye Elizabeth Hallam here investigates the anatomy museum and how it reveals the fascination and fears that surround the dead body in Western societies Hallam explores the history of these museums and how they operate in the current cultural environment Their regulated access increasingly clashes with evolving public mores toward the exposed body as demonstrated by the international popularity of the Body Worlds exhibition The book examines such related topics as artistic works that employ the images of dead bodies and the larger ongoing debate over the disposal of corpses Issues such as aesthetics and science organ and body donations and the dead body in Western religion and ritual are also discussed here in fascinating depth The Anatomy Museum unearths a strange and compelling cultural history that investigates the ideas of preservation human rituals of death and the spaces that our bodies occupy in this life and beyond

Child Therapy in the Great Outdoors Sebastiano Santostefano, 2013-04-15 Building on relational conceptualizations of enactment and on developmental research that attests to the role of embodied nonverbal language in the meanings children impute to their experiences Sebastiano Santostefano offers this compelling demonstration of effective child therapy conducted in the great outdoors Specifically he argues that for the child traumatic life metaphors should be resolved at an embodied rather than an exclusively verbal level they should be resolved that is as they are enacted between child and therapist To this end child and therapist must take advantage of all the indoor and outdoor environments available to them As they take therapy to nontraditional places relying on the nonverbal vocabulary they have constructed together they move toward enacted solutions to relational crises solutions that revise the child's sense of self and ability to form new and productive relationships United States Educational, Scientific and Cultural Motion Pictures and Filmstrips United States.
