G. Wells, Modernity and the Movies Keith

Williams, 2007-12-01 This book investigates Wells's interest in cinema and related media technologies by placing it back into the contemporary cultural and scientific contexts giving rise to them It plugs a gap in understanding Wells's contribution to exploring and advancing the possibilities of cinematic narrative and its social and ideological impacts in the modern period Previous studies concentrate on adaptations this book accounts for the specifically proto cinematic techniques and concerns of Wells's texts It also focuses on contemporary film making in dialogue with his ideas Alongside Hollywood's later transactions it gives equal weight to neglected British and continental European dimensions Chapter 1 shows how early writings The Time Machine and short stories feature many kinds of radically defamiliarised vision These constitute imaginative speculations about the forms and potentials of moving image and electronic media Chapter 2 discusses the power of voyeurism absent presence and the disjunction of sound image reproduction implied in The Invisible Man and its topical politics updated in notable screen versions Chapter 3 extends this to dystopian warnings of systematic surveillance broadcasting of celebrity personae and post literate video culture in When the Sleeper Wakes a crucial template for urban futures on film Chapter 4 analyses Wells's belated return to screenwriting in the 1930s It accounts for his broadbrow ambition of mediating between popular and avant garde tendencies to promote his cause and its mixed results in Things to Come The Man Who Could Work Miracles etc Chapter 5 finally surveys Wells's legacy on both small and large screens It considers whether as well as being raided for scenarios for spectacular effects his subtexts still nourish an evolving tradition of alternative SF which duly critiques the innovations and applications of its host media Cinemas of Therapeutic

Activism Adam Szymanski, 2025-10-01 The hegemonic meaning of depression as a universal mental illness embodied by an individualized subject is propped up by psychiatry's clinical gaze Cinemas of Therapeutic Activism turns to the work of contemporary filmmakers who express a shared concern for mental health under global capitalism to explore how else depression can be perceived In taking their critical visions as intercessors for thought Adam Szymanski proposes a thoroughly relational understanding of depression attentive to eventful collective and contingent qualities of subjectivity What emerges is a melancholy aesthetics attuned to the existential contours and political stakes of health Cinemas of

Therapeutic Activism adventurously builds affinities across the lines of national linguistic and cultural difference The films of Angela Schanelec Kelly Reichardt Apichatpong Weerasethakul and Kanakan Balintagos are grouped together for the first time constituting a polystylistic common front of artist physicians who live work and create on the belief that life can be more liveable Cinemas of Therapeutic Activism offers a novel conception of political aesthetics in the discipline of film studies which takes mental health into consideration It will be the first to situate Fourth Cinema the category of global Indigenous feature filmmaking within the landscape of global art cinema The book will also create a bridge between the contemporary neurodiversity movement and the historical sensibility of anti psychiatry which was important for French theory in the 1970s

Film Editing Valerie Orpen, 2019-07-25 Film Editing provides an introduction to the craft of editing in the non silent film In clear and accessible language Valerie Orpen considers editing as an expressive strategy rather than a mere technique She reveals that editing can be approached and studied in a similar way to other aspects of film Traditionally studies on editing or montage tend to focus on silent cinema yet this book claims that an examination of editing should also consider the role of the soundtrack The aim of Film Editing is to examine the way in which editing can make meaning The book addresses editing as part of a wider context and as a crucial element of the overarching design and vision of a film Consequently this book incorporates other parameters such as mise en scene framing sound genre history and performance By examining a number of mainstream and art films such as Godard's A bout de souffle Hitchcock's Rear Window and Scorsese's Raging Bull Film Editing seeks to dispel the notion that editing is necessarily polarized as continuity versus discontinuity
