Stephen R. Bown

A Map Of Betrayal:

A Map of Betrayal Ha Jin, 2014-11-04 A Christian Science Monitor Best Book of the Year From the award winning author of Waiting and War Trash a riveting tale of espionage and conflicted loyalties that spans half a century in the entwined histories of two countries China and the United States and two families When Lilian Shang born and raised in America discovers her father's diary after the death of her parents she is shocked by the secrets it contains She knew that her father Gary convicted decades ago of being a mole in the CIA was the most important Chinese spy ever caught But his diary an astonishing chronicle of his journey as a Communist intelligence agent reveals the pain and longing that his double life entailed and point to a hidden second family that he'd left behind in China As Lilian follows her father's trail back into the Chinese provinces she begins to grasp the extent of his dilemma he is a man torn between loyalty to his motherland and the love he came to feel for his adopted country She sees how his sense of duty distorted his life and as she starts to understand that Gary too had been betrayed Lilian finds that it is up to her to prevent his tragedy from endangering yet another generation of Shang's A stunning portrait of a multinational family and an unflinching inquiry into the meaning of citizenship patriotism and home A Map of Betrayal is a spy novel that only Ha Jin could write

Transpacific Cartographies Melody Yunzi Li, 2023-12-15 Transpacific Cartographies examines how contemporary Chinese diasporic narratives address the existential loss of home for immigrant communities at a time of global precarity and amid rising Sino US tensions Melody Li argues that the characters in these stories create multilayered maps that transcend the territorial boundaries that make finding a home in foreign land a seemingly impossible task

Asia and the Historical Imagination Jane Yeang Chui Wong, 2018-03-21 This collection explores the interpretation of historical fiction through fictional representations of the past in an Asian context Emphasising the significance of region and locality it explores local networks of political and cultural exchanges at the heart of an Asian polity The book considers how imagined pasts converge and diverge in developed and developing nations and examines the limitations of representation at a time when theories of world literature are shaping the way we interpret global histories and cultures The collection calls attention to the importance of acknowledging local tensions both within the historical and cultural make up of a country and within the Asian continent in the interpretation of historical fiction It emphasizes a broad spectrum view that privileges the shared historical experiences of a group of countries in close proximity and it also responds to the paradigm shift in Asian Studies Discussing how local conditions shape and create expectations of how we read historical fiction and working with the theme of fictionality and locality the volume provides an alternative framework for the study of world literature

Madness, Betrayal and the Lash Stephen R. Bown, 2009-12-01 From 1792 to 1795 George Vancouver sailed the Pacific as the captain of his own expedition and as an agent of imperial ambition To map a place is to control it and Britain had its eyes on America's Pacific coast And map it Vancouver did His voyage was one of history's greatest feats of maritime daring discovery and diplomacy and his marine survey of Hawaii and the Pacific coast was at its time the most comprehensive ever undertaken But just two years after returning to Britain the 40 year old Vancouver hounded by critics shamed by public humiliation at the fists of an aristocratic sailor he had flogged and blacklisted because of a perceived failure to follow the Admiralty's directives died in poverty nearly forgotten In this riveting and perceptive biography historian Stephen Bown delves into the events that destroyed Vancouver's reputation and restores his position as one of the greatest explorers of the Age of Discovery

Security and Hospitality in Literature and Culture Jeffrey Clapp, Emily Ridge, 2015-10-05 With contributions from an international array of scholars this volume opens a dialogue between discourses of security and hospitality in modern and contemporary literature and culture The chapters in the volume span domestic spaces and detention camps the experience of migration and the phenomena of tourism interpersonal exchanges and cross cultural interventions The volume explores the multifarious ways in which subjects citizens communities and states negotiate the mutual and potentially exclusive desires to secure themselves and offer hospitality to others From the individual's telephone and data to the threshold of the family home to the borders of the nation sites of securitization confound hospitality's injunction to openness gifting and refuge In demonstrating an interrelation between ongoing discussions of hospitality and the intensifying attention to security the book engages with a range of literary cultural and geopolitical contexts drawing on work from other disciplines including philosophy political science and sociology Further it defines a new interdisciplinary area of inquiry that resonates with current academic interests in world literature transnationalism and cosmopolitanism

Fractal Time Braden Gregg, 2010-03-01 In this compelling exploration of life Gregg Braden merges the modern discoveries of nature's patterns fractals with the ancient view of a cyclic universe The result is a powerful model of time fractal time and a realistic window into what we can expect for the mysterious year 2012 and beyond Applying fractal time to the history of the world and life he proposes that everything from the war and peace between nations to the patterns of human relationships mirror the returning cycles of our past As each cycle repeats it carries a more powerful amplified version of itself The key If you know where to look in the past you know what to expect when the same conditions return in the present and future For the first time in print the Time Code Calculator gives you the tool to do just that Through easy to understand science and step by step instructions discover for yourself How the conditions for 2012 have occurred in the past and what we can expect when they repeat The hot dates that hold the greatest threats of war and greatest opportunities for peace as well as economic cycles such as the stockmarket collapse of 2008 How Earth's location in space triggers cycles of spiritual growth for humans Your personal Time Codes for the key events of business relationships and change in your life How each cycle carries a window of opportunity a choice point that allows us to select a new outcome for the returning pattern What the 1999 ice cores from Antarctica reveal about past cycles of climate global warming Earth's protective magnetic fields and what these things mean for us today

Chinese Diasporic Writers and Artists Kwok-kan Tam, Lily Li, 2025-09-10 This book presents new and original essays that capture the enigmatic and intriguing personal and imagined worlds of Chinese writers and artists in diaspora in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Including chapters on artist writers such as Gao Xingjian Dai Sijie Ha Jin and Hong Ying Tyrus Wong and Shen Wei the book explores personal cross cultural experiences through their literary and other artistic works reflecting on their cultural identity their native home and their new home the past and the present By writing filming and painting about their diaspora diasporic experience they are writing about their selves and the traumatic experience many of them have gone through in forgetting the past forgiving the damage and foreshadowing a future by re visioning their selves Their experience represents a generation s quest for an identity of being Chinese but culturally distanced from China As a study of cross cultural human experience through the lens of literature film and other arts this book will not only appeal to students and scholars of Chinese diaspora studies it will also appeal to those with an interest in Chinese literature film and culture

A Telic Theory of Trust J. Adam Carter,2024-05-23 What is it to trust well How do we do it If we think of trust as a kind of aimed performance capable of not only success but also of competence and aptness our understanding of what it is to trust well can be put on an entirely new footing A Telic Theory of Trust takes up this project and in doing so makes use of the core trust as performance idea developed and refined in substantive detail in the service of explaining a range of philosophically important questions the nature and varieties of trust the evaluative norms that govern good trusting and distrusting both implicit and deliberative how trust relates to vulnerability risk negligence and monitoring as well as to trustworthiness and more generally to our practices of cooperation The result a telic theory of trust opens up new conceptual possibilities and a research agenda in the philosophy of trust that is methodologically in the spirit of virtue epistemology but which takes on its own distinctive shape

The Book of Common Betrayals Lynne Knight,2002 Poetry Lynne Knight s first book won a Quarterly Review of Literature prize in 1996 Her second full length collection has won the Dorothy Brunsman Poetry Prize for 2002 In it Knight explores the idea that betrayal whether a violation of trust or an unwitting revelation is part of our inheritance as humans In poems fueled by a combination of passion and panic Knight disarms us only to expand our vision She turns the inner world outward and exposes what we ve kept secret sometimes even from ourselves These are driven poems uttered in the heart s vernacular Andrea Hollander Budy

First Laugh Margaret Randall,2011-01-01 Concerns about power its use and abuse have been at the center of Margaret Randall s work for more than fifty years And over time Randall has acquired a power all her own as her unique ability to observe consider and distill experience has drawn readers into new experiences and insights Tempered by time and reflecting a life fully lived and richly examined her thoughts on race gender poetry landscape cellular memory and personal loss speak with eloquence and urgency
