A Plethora Of Decapitated Nonsense English Edition:

Encyclopedia of Literary Translation Into English: A-L O. Classe, 2000 A New English Dictionary on Historical Principles, 1897 Heaven's Luck Harold Hester, 2011 A Chinese Bestiary Richard E. Strassberg, 2023-11-03

A Chinese Bestiary presents a fascinating pageant of mythical creatures from a unique and enduring cosmography written in ancient China. The Guideways through Mountains and Seas, compiled between the fourth and first centuries BCE, contains descriptions of hundreds of fantastic denizens of mountains, rivers, islands, and seas, along with minerals, flora, and medicine. The text also represents a wide range of beliefs held by the ancient Chinese. Richard Strassberg brings the Guideways to life for modern readers by weaving together translations from the work itself with information from other texts and recent archaeological finds to create a lavishly illustrated guide to the imaginative world of early China. Unlike the bestiaries of the late medieval period in Europe, the Guideways was not interpreted allegorically; the strange creatures described in it were regarded as actual entities found throughout the landscape. The work was originally used as a sacred geography, as a guidebook for travelers, and as a book of omens. Today it is regarded as the richest repository of ancient Chinese mythology and shamanistic wisdom. The Guideways may have been illustrated from the start, but the earliest surviving illustrations are woodblock engravings from a rare 1597 edition. Seventy-six of those plates are reproduced here for the first time, and they provide a fine example of the Chinese engraver's art during the late Ming dynasty. This beautiful volume, compiled by a well-known specialist in the field, provides a fascinating window on the thoughts and beliefs of an ancient people and will delight specialists and general readers alike. A Chinese Bestiary presents a fascinating pageant of mythical creatures from a unique and enduring cosmography written in ancient China. The Guideways through Mountains and Seas, compiled between the fourth and first centuries BCE, contain

Relating Difficulty D. Charles Kirkpatrick, Steven Duck, Megan K. Foley, 2013-09-13

Relating Difficulty offers insight into the nature of difficulty in relationships across a broad range of human experience. Whether dealing with in-laws or ex-spouses, long-distance relationships, or power and status in the workplace, difficulty is an all too common feature of daily life. Relating Difficulty brings the academic understanding of relational processes to the everyday problems people face at home and at work. These essays represent a groundbreaking collection of the multidisciplinary conceptual and empirical work that currently exists on the topic. Along with issues such as chronic illness and money problems, contributors investigate contexts of relational difficulty ranging from everyday gossip, the workplace, and shyness to more dangerous sexual hookups and partner abuse. Drawing on evidence presented in the volume, editors D. Charles Kirkpatrick, Steve Duck, and Megan K. Foley explain how relational problems do not emerge solely from individuals or even from the relationship itself. Instead, they arise from triangles of connection and negotiation between relational partners, contexts, and outsiders. The volume challenges the simple notion that relating difficulty is just about problems with difficult people and offers some genuinely novel insights into a familiar everyday experience. This exceptional volume is essential.

reading for practitioners researchers and students of relationships across a wide range of disciplines as well as anyone wanting greater understanding of relational functioning in everyday life and at work

Classical Myth & Culture in the Cinema Martin M. Winkler, 2001 This title comprises a collection of essays presenting a variety of approaches to films set in Ancient Greece and Rome and to films that reflect archetypal features of classical literature The book illustrates the continuing presence of antiquity in the most varied and influential medium of modern popular culture The diversity of content and theoretical stances found in this work should make this volume required reading for scholars and students interested in the presence of Greece and Rome in modern popular culture

The House of Shades , Give Me Shelter Andrew Paul Burtch, 2012 How could you and your family survive a nuclear war From 1945 onwards the Canadian government developed civil defence plans and encouraged citizens to join local survival corps By the time of the Cuban Missile Crisis the civil defence program was widely mocked and the public was still vastly unprepared for nuclear war An expos of the challenges of educating the public on the threat of nuclear annihilation Give Me Shelter provides a well grounded explanation of why Canada's civil defence strategy ultimately failed It is essential reading for anyone interested in Canada's Cold War home front
