A Life Course Perspective On Migration And Integration:

A Life-Course Perspective on Migration and Integration Matthias Wingens, Michael Windzio, Helga de Valk, Can Aybek, 2011-07-14 Over the last four decades the sociological life course approach with its focus on the interplay of structure and agency over time life course perspective has become an important research perspective in the social sciences Yet while it has successfully been applied to almost all fields of social inquiry it is much less used in research studying migrant populations and their integration patterns This is puzzling since understanding immigrants integration requires just the kind of dynamic research approach this approach puts forward any integration theory actually refers to life course processes This volume shows fruitful cross linkages between the two research traditions A range of studies are presented that all apply sociological life course concepts to research on migrants and migrant groups in Europe The book is organized thematically indicating different important domains in the life course Using a wide variety of methodological approaches it covers both quantitative studies based on population census data and survey material as well as qualitative studies based on interviews Attention is paid to the life courses of those who migrated themselves as well as their offspring The studies cover different European countries relating to one national context or a particular local setting in a city as well as cross country comparisons Overall the book shows that applying the sociological life course approach to migration and integration research may advance our understanding of immigrant settlement patterns as well as further develop the life course perspective

Handbook on Migration and Social Policy Gary P. Freeman, Nikola Mirilovic, 2016-02-27 In this comprehensive Handbook an interdisciplinary team of distinguished scholars from the social sciences explores the connections between migration and social policy They test conflicting claims as to the positive and negative effects of different types of migration against the experience of countries in Europe North America Australasia the Middle East and South Asia assessing arguments as to migration's impact on the financial social and political stability and sustainability of social programs The volume reflects the authors curiosity about the controversy over the connection between social and cultural diversity and popular support for the welfare state Providing timely and original chapters which both critique the existing literature as well as build on and advance theoretical understanding the authors focus on the formal settlement and integration policies created for migrants as well as corollary state policies affecting migrants and migration A clutch of chapters investigates the linkage between migration and trade theory foreign direct investment globalization public opinion public education and welfare programs Chapters then deal with leading receiving states as well as India and the authors examine the regulation of migration at the subnational national regional and global levels The topic of migration and security is also covered This compelling and exhaustive review of existing scholarship and state of the art original empirical analysis is essential reading for graduates and academics researching the field

The Emigrant Communities of Latvia Rita Kaša,Inta Mieriņa,2019-05-08 This open access volume examines experiences of contemporary Latvian migrants thereby focusing on reasons for emigration processes of integration in their host countries and in the case of return migration re integration in their home country In the context of European migration the book describes the case of Latvia which is interesting due to the multiple waves of excessive emigration continuously high migration potential among European Union member states and diverse migrant characteristics It provides a fascinating insight into the social and psychological aspects linked to migration in a comparative context The data in this volume is rich in providing individual level perspectives of contemporary Latvian migrants by addressing issues such as emigrants economic social and cultural inclusion in the host country ties with the home country and culture interaction with public authorities both in the host and home country political views and perspectives on the permanent settlement in migration or return Through topics such as assimilation of children relationships between emigrants representing different emigration waves the complex identities and attachments of minority emigrants and the role of culture and media in identity formation and presentation this book addresses topics that any contemporary emigrant community is faced with

Organising Immigrants' Integration Andreas Diedrich,Barbara Czarniawska,2023-06-09 This collection of field studies offers novel insights into the issues of migration and integration of immigrants The focus of the chapters is on actions processes and complexity of organising practices in contrast to more policy oriented works The contributors address vital questions How is the labour market integration of refugees and other immigrants being organised in practice What ideas of integration give rise to and are promoted by contemporary integration initiatives And what are the effects of these integration initiatives on immigrants lives and on their labour market integration in terms of diversity gender and power relations With contributions highlighting the importance of coordination and collaboration for the successful organising of integration this book should be of interest to researchers and advanced students from the fields of management and organisation studies public administration and management migration and integration studies sociology cultural studies and science and technology studies It should also interest professionals and policymakers working with integration who face the challenges described here in their daily work

Situating Children of Migrants across Borders and Origins Claudio Bolzman,Laura

Bernardi, Jean-Marie Le Goff, 2017-10-25 This open access wide ranging collation of papers examines a host of issues in studying second generation immigrants their life courses and their relations with older generations Tightly focused on methodological aspects both quantitative and qualitative the volume features the work of authors from numerous countries from differing disciplines and approaches A key addition in a corpus of literature which has until now been restricted to studying the childhood adolescence and youth of the children of immigrants the material includes analysis of longitudinal and transnational efforts to address challenges such as defining the population to be studied and the difficulties of follow up research that spans both time and geographic space In addition to perceptive reviews of extant literature chapters also detail work in surveying the children of immigrants in Europe the USA and elsewhere Authors address key questions such as the complexities of surveying each generation in families where parents have migrated and left children in their country of origin and the epistemological advances in methodology which now challenge assumptions based on the Westphalian nation state paradigm The book is in part an outgrowth of temporal factors immigrants children are now reaching adulthood in more significant numbers but also reflects the added sophistication and sensitivity of social science surveys In linking theoretical and methodological factors it shows just how much the study of these second generations and their families can be enriched by evolving methodologies This book is open access under a CC BY license

Refugee Migration and Health Alexander Krämer, Florian Fischer, 2018-12-11 This book focuses on the closely interlinked areas of refugee migration and health It discusses the main challenges of the recent unprecedented extremely diverse and mostly unregulated refugee migration wave for Germany and Europe and offers a broader view of refugee health from a European perspective Health issues can lead to several challenges for refugees as well as healthcare providers and as such the book also examines the requirements for the management of migrant populations in terms of medical care and health system adaptations and includes theoretical aspects of refugee migration and health as well as various perspectives on the latest developments Lastly it describes the healthcare system demands and responses for short and long term care of refugees

Handbook on Demographic Change and the Lifecourse Jane Falkingham, Maria Evandrou, Athina Vlachantoni, 2020-06-26 This innovative Handbook offers a deeper understanding of the causes and consequences of demographic change across the lifecourse Chapters highlight major theoretical and methodological advances and present research that sheds light on family dynamics health and mobility over the lifecourse illustrating the implications of lifecourse research for policy and reform

The Internationalization of the Academy Futao Huang, Martin Finkelstein, Michele Rostan, 2013-10-25 This volume provides a nuanced empirical assessment of the extent to which the academic profession is internationalized at the beginning of the 21st century It indicates which are the most internationalized academic activities and focuses on specific topics such as physical mobility for study or professional purposes teaching abroad or in another language research collaboration with foreign colleagues and publication and dissemination outside one's native country or in another language It places the main theme in the wider context of the history of higher education's internationalization. It provides explanations on what drives and deters academics from international activity and documents some of the consequences that internationalization has on academic work and productivity. This study is based on a survey of 25 000 academics working at higher education institutions in 18 countries and Hong Kong on five continents. Comparing data from the 1992 Carnegie International study to the 2007 CAP survey, relying on respondents' perceptions of change and comparing different academic generations, it offers valuable insights on changes in the internationalization of the academy. Elgar Encyclopedia of Global Migration Laura Oso, Natalia Ribas-Mateos, Melissa Moralli, 2025-01-09. In recent decades, emerging challenges such as increased digitalization of social lives and the ongoing processes of border externalization and internalization have prompted scholars and civil societies to question the ways in which people view, frame, and experience migration and draw attention to emerging forms of resistance and mobility justice. This timely Encyclopedia engages with critical epistemologies and practices to provide a comprehensive examination of the field of global migration, activism, and cultural production.
