A Life In Architecture Looking Beyond The Ugliness James Birrell:

A Life in Architecture James Birrell, 2014-04-01 In A Life In Architecture James Birrell reflects on his life in architecture the influence of architect Roy Grounds his respect for Walter Burley Griffin s original Canberra plan and his emphasis on the value of incorporating the landscape in its entirety into building design and planning and his own significant contribution to Australia s post war architecture Birrell writes candidly about Queensland s lacklustre approach to town planning during the 1950s the iconic buildings he designed in his years as Chief Architect for Brisbane City Council and the revolutionary planning schemes he developed at The University of Queensland and James Cook University in Papua New Guinea and regional Queensland Now at the age of 84 Birrell comments on Robin Boyd s 1960 book The Australian Ugliness While acknowledging the influence Boyd had on Australian architecture he prompts readers to take a moment to consider their built environment in the light of the architectural legacy and lineage created by Griffin Grounds and others Architecture and Ugliness Wouter Van Acker, Thomas Mical, 2021-05-06 Whatever ugliness is it remains a problematic category in architectural aesthetics alternately vilified and appropriated either to shock or to invert conventions of architecture This book presents eighteen new essays which rethink ugliness in architecture from brutalism to eclectic postmodern architectural productions and together offer a diverse reappraisal of the history and theory of postmodern architecture and design The essays address both broad theoretical questions on ugliness and postmodern aesthetics as well as more specific analyses of significant architectural examples dating from the last decades of the twentieth century addressing the relation between the aesthetic register of ugliness and aesthetic concepts such as brutalism kitsch the formless ad hoc ism the monstrous or the grotesque Architecture and Ugliness not only documents the history of a postmodern anti aesthetic through a diverse set of case studies it also sheds valuable light on an aesthetic problem which has been largely overlooked in architectural discourse It is essential reading for all students and scholars with an interest in postmodern architectural history architectural theory and aesthetics A Life in Architecture James Birrell, 2013 Le Corbusier in the Antipodes Antony Moulis, 2020-12-30 This book considers the architect Le Corbusier s encounters with Australia and New Zealand as a two way exchange showing the impact of his ideas and projects on architects of the region whilst also revealing counterinfluences on Le Corbusier in his post war career that were activated by his contacts Compiled from detailed archival research undertaken at the Fondation Le Corbusier Paris and nationally based archives Le Corbusier in the Antipodes brings together a set of episodes placing them in context with the history of modern art architecture and urbanism in 20th century Australia and New Zealand Key exchanges between Le Corbusier and others never before described are presented and analyzed including Le Corbusier s contact with Australian architect Harry Seidler at Chandigarh Le Corbusier s drawing of the plan of Adelaide in 1950 and his creative collaboration with Jorn Utzon on art for the Sydney Opera House This book also includes analysis of previously unseen Le Corbusier artworks which formed part of the Utzon family collection In reading these personal and contingent moments of encounter the book puts forward new ways of understanding the dissemination and mediation of Le Corbusier's ideas and their effects in post war Australia and New Zealand These antipodean contacts are set against the broader story of Le Corbusier's career questioning received interpretations of his design methods and current assumptions about the influence of his work in national contexts beyond Europe The Australian Journal of Architecture and Arts, 1960

Speaking of Buildings Naomi Stead, Janina Gosseye, Deborah van der Plaats, 2019-10-15 By and large architectural historians use texts drawings and photographs to craft their narratives Oral testimony from those who actually occupy or construct buildings is rarely taken as seriously Speaking of Buildings offers a rebuttal theorizing the radical potential of a methodology that has historically been cast as unreliable Essays by an international group of scholars look at varied topics from the role of gossip in undermining masculine narratives in architecture to workers accounts of building with cement in midcentury London to a sound art piece created by oral testimonies from Los Angeles public housing residents In sum the authors call for a renewed form of listening to enrich our understanding of what buildings are what they do and what they mean to people The Nation, 1896

Modern Times Ann Stephen, Philip Goad, Andrew McNamara, 2008 Richly illustrated and beautifully designed Modern Times The Untold Story of Modernism in Australia reveals how modernism transformed all aspects of Australian culture across five tumultuous decades from 1917 to 1967 The influence of modernism was wide reaching Modern Times looks at all things modern and as diverse as art advertising photography film fashion the body architecture interiors recreational sites such as the new swimming pools and fountains milk bars and auto culture Modernism embodied the utopian possibilities of the 20th century It transformed Australian cities into complex metropolises and offered access to new cosmopolitan cultures This is the first time that such diverse material has been brought together in one volume With stories from more than 20 authors and more than 300 images many of them never before published Modern Times will be a revelation The New Statesman and Nation, 1935
