Napoleon and the Woman Question June K. Burton, 2007

Examination of predominantly primary sources focuses on discourses of women and women's issues in light of the prevailing view of the relationship between the physical and the moral in feminine bodies and minds Burton discusses France's first national system of midwifery education women's medicine and surgery and medical law Provided by publisher Literary Culture and Female Authorship in Canada 1760-2000 Faye Hammill, 2021-10-18 There are two ladies in the province I am told who read writes Frances Brooke's Arabella Fermor but both are above fifty and are regarded as prodigies of erudition Brooke's The History of Emily Montague 1769 was the first work of fiction to be set in Canada and also the first book to reflect on the situation of the woman writer there Her analysis of the experience of writing in Canada is continued by the five other writers considered in this study Susanna Moodie Sara Jeannette Duncan L M Montgomery Margaret Atwood and Carol Shields All of these authors examine the social position of the woman of letters in Canada the intellectual stimulation available to her the literary possibilities of Canadian subject matter and the practical aspects of reading writing and publishing in a post colonial country This book turns on the ways in which those aspects of authorship and literary culture in Canada have been inscribed in imaginative autobiographical and critical texts by the six authors It traces the evolving situation of the Canadian woman writer over the course of two centuries and explores the impact of social and cultural change on the experience of writing in Canada Post-heritage Perspectives on British Period Drama Television Will Abbiss, 2023-06-09 Drawing upon the existing scholarship of period drama and emerging research into new media ecologies instigated by television streaming services such as Netflix this book establishes a critical framework for understanding the representation of nationhood and cultural identity in television drama By formalising the term post heritage the book proposes a methodology which recognises the interplay of traditional and innovative elements within period drama productions The book applies this critical perspective to popular British period drama productions from the 2010s with examples including The Crown the society dramas of Upstairs Downstairs and Downton Abbey Steven Knight's Dickens adaptations and Stephen Poliakoff's recent oeuvre to demonstrate the benefits of evaluating period drama as part of twenty first century television's developments It challenges the assumptions around characteristics and ideological purpose that period drama discourse often contends with and offers new perspectives on understanding the past through televisual representations This book will be important reading for students and scholars of television studies film studies and cultural studies
