, French Supplementary Exercises for Basic Course, Units 1-[24]: Units 16-24 Foreign Service Institute (U.S.), Robert J. Salazar, 1967 Hideous Progenies Steven Earl Forry, 2016-11-11 The Frankenstein we know is not Mary Shelley's creature at all. Rather, it is an amalgam of over 200 years of images and dramatizations that range from the ghoulish fiends of nineteenth-century sensation dramas to Boris Karloff's movie monster to Mel Brooks's tap dancing giant. These versions treat the Frankenstein myth with varying levels of horror, hysteria, and humor, but all of them attest to its enduring power. In Hideous Progenies, Steven Earl Forry offers a historical overview of the legend's transformation over time, beginning with Shelley's original and the earliest popular dramatizations of it, which transformed the myth, adding a burlesque quality and simplifying its moral allegory, and continuing on through the advent of cinema. He also documents this development with actual texts of seven pre-1931 dramatizations, a sampling of cartoons and playbills, and a shooting script for the first cinematic version, Thomas Edison's Frankenstein (1910). Forry's rare materials and interesting survey offer a valuable resource for scholars and students of theater history, literary history, and popular culture. French Supplementary Exercises for Basic Course Units 16-24 Foreign Service Institute (U.S.), Robert J. From Homicide to Slavery : Studies in American Culture David Brion Davis, Sterling Professor of History, Yale University, 1986-11-20 For more than twenty years, David Brion Davis has been recognized as a leading authority on the moral and ideological responses to slavery in the Western world. From Homicide to Slavery, Davis's first book of collected essays, brings together selections reflecting his wide-ranging interests in colonial history, Afro-American history, the social sciences, and American literature. The essays are interconnected by Davis's central concern with violence, irrationality, and the definition of moral limits during a period when Americans believed they were breaking free from historical constraints and acquiring new powers of self-perfection. Topics range from a socially revealing murder trial in 1843 to debates over capital punishment, movements of counter-subversion, the iconography of race, the cowboy as an American hero, the portrayal of violence in American literature, the historiography of slavery, and the British and American antislavery movements.
