American Ebola A Deadly Warning For An Unprepared Nation:

Unprepared Andrew Lakoff, 2017-08 A continuous state of readiness The generic biological threat Two regimes of global health Real time biopolitics A fragile assemblage Diagnosing failure Epilogue Planning for the Wrong Pandemic Andrew Lakoff, 2024-07-09 The fractious and disorganized governmental response to the coronavirus pandemic in the United States prompted many observers to ask why was the country which had the knowledge resources and plans to deal with such an event caught so unprepared Critics pointed to a number of candidates for blame a President who was dismissive of scientific expertise and indifferent to the task of leading government response a fragmented media landscape that enabled misinformation to prosper a slow footed health bureaucracy incapable of flexible response and social disparities that heightened inequities in the impact of disease Planning for the Wrong Pandemic takes a different approach Without dismissing such accounts it begins with the observation that much of the governmental and expert response to the pandemic had been envisioned and planned for in advance Moreover many of these plans were implemented in the early stages of the pandemic As authorities responded to the crisis they relied on an already formulated set of concepts and tools that had been devised for managing a future emergency These pre existing tools enabled officials to make sense of the event and to rapidly implement policies in response But they also led to significant blind spots This book asks under what circumstances were these planning tools developed What did they enable experts officials and the public to see and what did they hide from view And finally as we assess the failures in our response to the pandemic and attempt to prepare for the next one to what extent should we take for granted the capacity of these tools to guide future interventions effectively What We Do Next Really Matters Mark Roeder, 2022-04-29 The choices we make over the next few years will resonate for decades and perhaps centuries This is because our world is at a critical turning point in history as old certainties are swept aside by a global pandemic climate change and political upheaval How we respond to these challenges will determine whether we usher in a new Age of Enlightenment or a second Dark Ages In this compelling book Mark Roeder makes sense of our predicament and explains why we must reconsider some of our most fundamental beliefs Our current path is not sustainable socially environmentally or economically We are literally devouring our planet and our communities are becoming more polarised and fearful of the future The time has come for us to make some bold changes to the way we live This book explains what these changes should be and how to implement them Adventures in Epidemiology: One Scientist's Journey Through Disease, Politics, History, and Public Health Dr. W. Sumner Davis, Democracy and Event Elaine Stavro, 2023-11-24 Catastrophes unsettle our safe places within the world As such they provide an interesting site to analyze the intersection of our affective and political lives Bringing radical democratic thinking affect theory psychoanalysis and discursive analysis to bear on contemporary catastrophic events Democracy and Event presents a fresh perspective on the study of affect and its impact on democratic sensibilities and practices Situated in different countries with differing institutional histories and cultures the Grenfell Tower fire in London England 2017 the SARS epidemic in Toronto Canada 2003 the Parkland shooting in Florida 2018 the early days of the COVID 19 crisis and the murder of George Floyd in Minneapolis USA 2020 Elaine Stavro interprets the rhetoric discourse and affective communication of politicians and passionate protestors She examines their linkages to well established organizations informed by democratic ideals as well as the context in which they arise which have a bearing on their ability to challenge neoliberal and authoritarian practices Inspired by the urgent need to bring theory back to politics and politics back to theory Elaine Stavro demonstrates how theory might inform our attitudes to contemporary events while recognizing that political action and events cannot be captured in their complexity by theory Her skillful engagement with various theoretical approaches read through the lens of catastrophic events will speak to a wide ranging scholarly readership in numerous academic fields Reducing the Threat of Chemical and Biological Weapons United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Foreign Relations, 2002 Covid-19 in India, Disease, Health and Culture Anindita Chatterjee, Nilanjana Chatterjee, 2022-09-22 This book is a cultural exploration of health and wellness with a focus on impacts of Covid 19 on the population of India The chapters in this book present original research systematic reviews theoretical and conceptual frameworks encompassing multidisciplinary inter and intra disciplinary fields of study in the context of how culture and disease sufficiently unpack and inform each other The book includes contributions from the social sciences and the humanities and analyses issues that range from smallpox to the history of vaccine indigenous healing practices the Macbeth paradigm Zizekian encounters mental asylum and marginalised genders Using the theme of intellectual interconnectedness in the times of self isolation and social distancing the book is a collaboration of critical thinkers who identify and visibilize the hidden global issues related to disease and health that have divided the world into narrow binaries individual society poor rich proletariat bourgeoisie margin centre colonised coloniser servitude liberty powerless powerful By doing so the book emphasises the potential of holistic wellness to improve human life and humanity across the globe A novel contribution on the cultural factors that played an important role in contemporary times of Covid 19 this book will be of interest to researchers in the fields of Cultural Studies Health and Society and South Asian Studies
