Dominant- The trait that will show. Recessive- Must be copied for twice (less frequent). Codominance both show (like A+B blood type).

Incomplete dominance- when both red and white make pink. Sex-linked is related to gender. Polygenic- many traits. Multiple alleles- more than two alleles put make up the trait.

MA.8.B.2.2 Describe processes that can alter composition or number of chromosomes (i.e., crossing over, nondisjunction, duplication, translocation, deletion, insertion, and inversion).

Crossing over- When the ends of the chromosome switch.

Nondisjunction- Chromosomes don't separate.

Abiotic Stress Alleviation in Plants: Morpho-Physiological and Molecular Aspects Diaa Abd El Moneim, Mehdi Rahimi, Mahmoud Magdy, Mohammad Golam Mostofa, 2023-10-27 Plants are constantly exposed to changing environmental conditions. Abiotic stresses cause adverse effects on plant growth, development, survival, and yield. It is essential to improve plant responses to such environmental conditions to achieve sustainable crop growth, development, and productivity. The activation of plant stress signaling mechanisms is crucial to address the adverse impacts of environmental factors on plant growth and productivity. Phytoprotectants, including signaling molecules, play crucial roles in the activation of plant physiological and molecular mechanisms to withstand the negative effects of abiotic stress on plants. Investigation of physiological, biochemical, and metabolic pathways associated with plant adaptation to abiotic stress will help identify the key players involved in plant abiotic stress tolerance mechanisms. The sensing, signaling, and gene regulatory mechanisms that help plants cope with abiotic stress must be fully explored. , Applications of Chimeric Genes and Hybrid Proteins, Part B: Cell Biology and Physiology, 2000-10-17 The critically acclaimed laboratory standard for more than forty years, Methods in Enzymology is one of the most highly respected publications in the field of biochemistry. The scientific community is currently focusing on climate resilience to ensure food and nutritional security. Understanding the molecular mechanisms underlying stress response is the key to tweaking the key regulators for enhancing this trait. Climate resilience is a dynamic process controlled by transcriptional and epigenetic regulators. Therefore, it is imperative to study transcriptional changes and epigenetic modifications regulating stress responses and manipulate candidate genes/alleles/QTLs/mQTLs to achieve biotic and abiotic stress resilience. To recognize the full landscape of variations driving these phenotypic changes, multi-omics approaches must be used to understand these factors along with genetic variations. To feed the ever-growing population and tackle the uncertainties in environmental changes, deploying genomics and sequencing is a viable solution. Plant cells must modify their chromatin states and adjust their transcriptional profile to respond better to environmental stimuli. These chromatin modifications include DNA methylation, histone variants, post-transcriptional histone modifications, and variations in non-coding RNA activities. Exploring transcriptional dynamics and epigenetic changes simultaneously with the natural variations present in the population/sub-population is necessary. This will provide us with a full picture of different mechanisms driving the phenotypic changes and will help in developing better resilient varieties by utilizing this multi-omics driven knowledge.
