Genetic and Epigenetic Regulation of Insect Development, Reproduction, and Phenotypic Plasticity Wei Guo,S. Reddy Palli,Fei Li,Zhongxia Wu,2022-02-10 Photosynthesis, Respiration, and Climate Change Katie M. Becklin,Joy K. Ward,Danielle A. Way,2021-05-31 Changes in atmospheric carbon dioxide concentrations and global climate conditions have altered photosynthesis and plant respiration across both geologic and contemporary time scales Understanding climate change effects on plant carbon dynamics is critical for predicting plant responses to future growing conditions Furthermore demand for biofuel fibre and food production is rapidly increasing with the ever expanding global human population and our ability to meet these demands is exacerbated by climate change This volume integrates physiological ecological and evolutionary perspectives on photosynthesis and respiration responses to climate change We explore this topic in the context of modeling plant responses to climate including physiological mechanisms that constrain carbon assimilation and the potential for plants to acclimate to rising carbon dioxide concentration warming temperatures and drought Additional chapters contrast climate change responses in natural and agricultural ecosystems where differences in climate sensitivity between different photosynthetic pathways can influence community and ecosystem processes Evolutionary studies over past and current time scales provide further insight into evolutionary changes in photosynthetic traits the emergence of novel plant strategies and the potential for rapid evolutionary responses to future climate conditions Finally we discuss novel approaches to engineering photosynthesis and

photorespiration to improve plant productivity for the future The overall goals for this volume are to highlight recent advances in photosynthesis and respiration research and to identify key challenges to understanding and scaling plant physiological responses to climate change The integrated perspectives and broad scope of research make this volume an excellent resource for both students and researchers in many areas of plant science including plant physiology ecology evolution climate change and biotechnology For this volume 37 experts contributed chapters that span modeling empirical and applied research on photosynthesis and respiration responses to climate change Authors represent the following seven countries Australia 6 Canada 9 England 5 Germany 2 Spain 3 and the United States 12

Deliberation with Chinese Characteristics Su Yun Woo,2023-03-10 Woo investigates examples of the Chinese government using methods normally associated with deliberative democracy to involve their citizenry in decision making at a sub national level Despite the tightening of civil society under Xi there are still some opportunities for the Chinese people to articulate their opinions and participate in decision making The proliferation of deliberative democratic practices is motivated by the Communist Party of China's CCP strong governance logic to strengthen regime legitimacy and stability Woo examines deliberative participation through the lens of participatory budgeting in China and investigates its impact on local governance To make sense of this model of deliberative democratic governance in China she unpacks the relationship between deliberative democracy and governance This requires delving into the forms and functions of deliberation with Chinese characteristics especially to show how they depart from the Western deliberative democratic experiences What is the Chinese deliberative discourse in relation to the Western conception of deliberative democracy How can the Chinese deliberative experience contribute to the concept of deliberative governance How does deliberation impact upon local governance in China An intriguing read both for scholars of Chinese politics and for political scientists looking at comparative examples of deliberative governance

Experimental Investigations on Particle Number Emissions from GDI Engines Markus Bertsch,2016-12-31 This thesis discusses experimental investigations to reduce particle number emissions from gasoline engines with direct injection Measures on a single cylinder research engine with combined usage of a particle number measurement system a particle size distribution measurement system as well as optical diagnostics and thermodynamic analysis enable an in depth assessment of particle formation and oxidation Therefore numerous optical diagnostic techniques for spray visualisation Mie scattering High Speed PIV and soot detection High Speed Imaging Fiber optical diagnostics are deployed Two injectors with different hydraulic flows but identical spray targeting are characterised and compared by measurements in a pressurised chamber The operation at higher engine load and low engine speed is in the focus of the experimental work at the engine test bench Thereby the low flow velocities in the combustion chamber caused by the low engine speed as well as the large amount of fuel injected are major challenges for the mixture formation process A substantial part of the thesis thus focusses on the detailed analysis of the mixture formation process which is consisting of fuel injection interaction of the in cylinder charge motion with the fuel injected and the fuel properties Measures for the optimisation of the mixture formation process and the minimisation of the particle number emissions are analysed and evaluated The charge motion is manipulated by the impression of a directed flow the variation of the valve timings and valve open curve The injection process is influenced by a reduction of the hydraulic flow of the injector and an increase of the injection pressure up to 50 MPa The investigations show fundamental effects and potentials of different variation parameters concerning their emissions reduction potential at the exemplary operation at high engine load Due to the simultaneous analysis of the in cylinder charge motion and a thermodynamic analysis the results can be transferred to different engines
