2012 will be held on November 16-19, 2012 in Chongqing, China, which is organized by Chongqing Normal University, Chongqing University, Shanghai Jiao Tong University, Nanyang Technological University, University of Michigan, Chongqing University of Arts and Sciences and sponsored by National Natural Science Foundation of China (NSFC). The objective of IMS 2012 is to facilitate an exchange of information on best practices for the latest research advances in a range of areas: Informatics and Management Science contains over 600 contributions to suggest and inspire solutions and methods drawing from multiple disciplines including Computer Science, Communications and Electrical Engineering, Management Science, Service Science, Business Intelligence. Large-Scale Studies in Mathematics Education James A. Middleton, Jinfa Cai, Stephen Hwang, 2015-05-05 In recent years funding agencies like the Institute of Educational Sciences and the National Science Foundation have increasingly emphasized large scale studies with experimental and quasi experimental designs looking for objective truths. Educational researchers have recently begun to use large scale studies to understand what really works from developing interventions to validation studies of the intervention and then to efficacy studies and the final scale up for large implementation of an intervention. Moreover modeling student learning developmentally taking into account cohort factors issues of socioeconomics local political context and the presence or absence of interventions requires the use of large data sets wherein these variables can be sampled adequately and inferences made. Inroads in quantitative methods have been made in the psychometric and sociometric literatures but these methods are not yet common knowledge in the mathematics education community. In fact currently there is no volume devoted to discussion of issues related to large scale studies and to report findings from them. This volume is unique as it directly discusses methodological issues in large scale studies and reports empirical data from large scale studies. Resources in Education, 1998-05 Intermediate Algebra Charles P. linear tests from both classical test theory and item response theory perspectives Item pool design and assembly for the linear on the fly tests elaborates more complications in practice when test security is a big concern Finally several chapters focus on computerized adaptive testing CAT at either item or module levels CAT is further illustrated as an effective approach to increasing test takers engagement in testing In summary the book includes both theoretical methodological and applied research and practices that serve as the foundation for future development These chapters provide illustrations of efforts to automate the process of test development While some of these automation processes have become common practices such as automated test assembly automated scoring and computerized adaptive testing some others such as automated item generation calls for more research and exploration When new AI methods are emerging and evolving it is expected that researchers can expand and improve the methods for automating different steps in test development to enhance the automation features and practitioners can adopt quality automation procedures to improve assessment practices
