Michael Dirda The Washington Post One of the greatest writers of American sentences in our literary history James Salter's acute and glimmering portrayals of characters are built with a restrained and poetic style The author of several memorable works of fiction including Dusk and Other Stories which won the PEN Faulkner Award he is also celebrated for his memoir Burning the Days and many nonfiction essays In her preface Kay Eldredge Salter writes Don't Save Anything is a volume of the best of Jim's nonfiction articles published but never collected in one place until now Though those many boxes were overflowing with papers in the end it's not really a matter of quantity These pieces reveal some of the breadth and depth of Jim's endless interest in the world and the people in it One of the great pleasures in writing nonfiction is the writer's feeling of exploration of learning about things he doesn't know of finding out by reading and observing and asking questions and then writing it down That's what you'll find here This collection gathers Salter's thoughts on writing and profiles of important writers observations of the changing American military life evocations of Aspen winters musings on mountain climbing and skiing and tales of travels to Europe that first appeared in The New Yorker Esquire People Condé Nast Traveler the Aspen Times among other publications

A Sport and a Pastime James Salter, 2007 A Sport and a Pastime is an astonishing performance the classic novel from a remarkable writer whose sentences bristle with a singular passion Salter chronicles a love affair between a young shopgirl and an American college dropout against the backdrop of provincial France The narrator's cool distillation of events real or imagined makes the book both lyrical and tightly dangerously pitched
