It is also possible that the observed increase in the number of people who are obese is due to a change in the definition of obesity. The definition of obesity has changed over the years, and it is possible that the current definition is more inclusive than in the past.

2. QUESTION: What is the difference between a substantive and a procedural question? Give an example of each.
3. ANSWER: A substantive question is one that asks about the merits of a case, while a procedural question is one that asks about the process of the trial.
