Research Universities in Africa Cloete, Nico, Bunting, Ian, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project Second previous books and reports were published mid project This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees Different does not necessarily mean new An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa

Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen, 2023-02-01 In South African higher education the images of dysfunction are everywhere Student protests Violence Police presence Rubber or real bullets Class disruptions Burning tyres Damaged buildings Injury and sometimes death Reports of wholesale corruption Year after year often in the same set of universities the problem of routine instability seems insoluble The financial academic and reputational costs of ongoing dysfunction are high especially for those universities caught up in the never ending struggle to overcome apartheid legacies Any number of explanations have been ventured including a lack of resources shortage of capacity rural location corrupt officials and endemic conflict Corrupted takes a deeper look at dysfunction in an attempt to unravel the root causes in a sample of South African universities At the heart of the problem lies the vexed issue of resources or more pertinently the relationship between resources and power who gets what and why Whatever else it aspires to be commonly a place of teaching learning research and public duty a university in an impoverished community is also a rich concentration of resources around which corrupt staff students and those outside of campus all vie for access Taking a political economic approach Jonathan Jansen describes the daily struggle for institutional resources and offers accessible sensible insights He argues that the problem won't be solved through investments in capacity building alone because the combination of institutional capacity and institutional integrity contributes to serial instability in universities Rather durable solutions would include the depoliticisation of university councils and appointments of academics with integrity and capacity to manage and lead these fragile institutions This groundbreaking and long overdue study will offer a promising way forward for universities to better serve their communities and the country more broadly University on the Border Lis Lange, Vasu Reddy, Siseko H.

Kumalo, 2021-08-27 The volume explores and thinks through the process of decolonising the South African higher education system by examining MustFall The text offers theoretical insights from a historical contemporary and multidisciplinary lens while examining the embedded meanings of the university as an institution idea and set of practices to show the shifts and changes that were inaugurated by MustFall along with the historicities that define the university both locally and globally The retro and prospective insights presented in the book surface the crisis of authority that places the university in a state of precarity which is framed in the book as the border The volume proposes the concept of the border recognising its conceptual and analytical dynamism as a generative space that can facilitate new imaginaries and articulations of this social institution the university The Statesman's Yearbook 2015 B. Turner, 2016-12-27 Now in its 151st edition The Statesman's

Yearbook continues to be the reference work of choice for accurate and reliable information on every country in the world Covering political economic social and cultural aspects the Yearbook is also available online for subscribing institutions <http://www.statesmansyearbook.com> Africa and Globalization Toyin Falola, Kenneth Kalu, 2018-05-30 This book considers the promises and challenges of globalization for Africa Why have African states been perennially unable to diversify their economies and move beyond export of primary produce even as Southeast Asia has made a tremendous leap into manufacturing What institutional impediments are in play in African states What reforms would mitigate the negative effects of globalization and distribute its benefits more equitably Covering critical themes such as political leadership security challenges the creative sector and community life essays in this volume argue that the starting point for Africa's meaningful engagement with the rest of the world must be to look inward examine Africa's institutions and work towards reforms that promote inclusiveness and stability

Higher Education Pathways Ashwin, Paul, Case, Jennifer M., 2018-12-14 In what ways does access to undergraduate education have a transformative impact on people and societies What conditions are required for this impact to occur What are the pathways from an undergraduate education to the public good including inclusive economic development These questions have particular resonance in the South African higher education context which is attempting to tackle the challenges of widening access and improving completion rates in a system in which the segregations of the apartheid years are still apparent Higher education is recognised in core legislation as having a distinctive and crucial role in building post apartheid society Undergraduate education is seen as central to addressing skills shortages in South Africa It is also seen to yield significant social returns including a consistent positive impact on societal institutions and the development of a range of capabilities that have public as well as private benefits This book offers comprehensive contemporary evidence that allows for a fresh engagement with these pressing issues

Proceedings of the 10th Focus Conference (TFC 2023) Manyane Makua, Mariam Akinlolu, Mashango Sithole, Phiwayinkosi Gumede, Cebo Nyondo, Ntombikhona Khuzwayo, Mandlenkosi Mhlongo, 2023-11-03 This is an open access book The 2023 Focus Conference will focus on Goal Four Quality Education of the United Nations UN Sustainable Development Goals SGD Goal Four is seized with providing equal access for all women and men to affordable and quality technical vocational and tertiary education including university Quality education in this context means the ability to function provide and derive value in society The theme of the conference is therefore coined as The Role of Higher Education in the Attainment of Sustainable Quality Education Through this theme the conference will provide a space for participants to share practical knowledge experiences and possible solutions to the myriad of problems that confront the higher education sector Universities are often thought of as ivory towers far removed from the realities that confront global societies To compound this higher education is increasingly being questioned for its relevance in providing practical and innovative solutions to existing societal problems Such questions often navigate around the relevance of the academic programmes being offered curriculum the capacity of staff employability of graduates and generally the ability of these institutions to understand why they exist Indeed higher education's role in creating a sustainable future will presumably take on greater importance as the world continues to become increasingly globalised and interdependent
