Leveled Texts: Ancient China Debra J. Housel, 2014-01-01 All students can learn about ancient China through text written at four reading levels Symbols on the pages represent reading level ranges to help differentiate instruction Provided comprehension questions complement the text War and State Formation in Ancient China and Early Modern Europe Victoria Tin-bor Hui, 2005-07-04 The Eurocentric conventional wisdom holds that the West is unique in having a multi state system in international relations and liberal democracy in state society relations At the same time the Sinocentric perspective believes that China is destined to have authoritarian rule under a unified empire In fact China in the Spring and Autumn and Warring States periods 656 221 BC was once a system of sovereign territorial states similar to Europe in the early modern period Both cases witnessed the prevalence of war formation of alliances development of the centralized bureaucracy emergence of citizenship rights and expansion of international trade This book first published in 2005 examines why China and Europe shared similar processes but experienced opposite outcomes This historical comparison of China and Europe challenges the presumption that Europe was destined to enjoy checks and balances while China was preordained to suffer under a coercive universal status Religions of Ancient China Herbert A. Giles, 2012-06-01 From the ancient pantheon of gods whose edicts could only be divined using oracle bones to the later more organized systems of Taoism and Confucianism the history of China is deeply intertwined with its religious development Students of ancient religion will appreciate the detailed overview of the subject offered in Herbert A Giles Religions of Ancient China The Huainanzi and Textual Production in Early China, 2014-04-03 The Han dynasty Huainanzi is a compendium of knowledge covering every subject from self cultivation astronomy and calendrics to the arts of government This edited volume follows a multi disciplinary approach to explore how and why the Huainanzi was produced and how we should interpret the work The volume should be of interest to scholars of early China as well as scholars of textual production in other periods of Chinese history and in other cultures With contributions by Anne Behnke Kinney Martin Kern John S Major Andrew Meyer Judson B Murray Michael Nylan David W Pankenier Michael Puett Sarah A Queen Harold D Roth and Griet Vankeerberghen Traditional Chinese Philosophy and the Paradigm of Structure (Li 理) Jana S. Rošker, 2013-01-04 Specific Chinese models for theories of knowledge were premised upon a structurally ordered external reality since natural or cosmic order is organic it naturally follows the flow of structural patterns and operates in accordance with structural principles that regulate every existence In this worldview our mind is also structured in accordance with this all embracing but open organic system The axioms of our recognition and thought are therefore not arbitrary but follow this rationally designed structure The compatibility of both the cosmic and mental structures is the basic precondition that enables humans to perceive and recognize external reality The present study shows that this paradigm of structural epistemology can already be found in the earliest Chinese theories of knowledge The introduction of Chinese models and their incorporation into Western discourses fills an important theoretical gap in the Western model of structuralism This book offers an insight into epistemological systems that arose outside the discourses of the Euro American tradition It can thus help us to eliminate and supersede certain culturally conditioned prejudices as to the superiority and omnipresence of Western theoretical models while demonstrating incontrovertibly that the results of Western discourses are by no means the only force driving theoretical innovation at the present time

Searching for the Way Jana Rošker, 2008

The search for knowledge has been the driving force behind mankind's existence since the dawn of civilization and different cultures have developed their own theories of knowledge. Searching for the Way: Theory of Knowledge in Premodern and Modern China deals with the analyses and interpretations of modern Chinese philosophical discourses especially those concerning theories of knowledge. The author looks at how contemporary Chinese philosophy is awakening from a long slumber and substantiates the hypothesis that this new awakening is fully prepared for fruitful confrontations with the new challenges presented by a globalized world. The study of 20th century Chinese philosophy has not been the subject of any extensive and systematic discussion in neither the West in general nor in Western Sinology in particular. Hence this book will be of immense interest to those who are interested in the emerging fields of comparative philosophy, Chinese studies and theology.
