fair environments organising work and creating environments for learning The book draws on a two year study into the role that gender played as three Catholic high schools prepared to move from single sex to coeducation It does not weigh the advantages of single sex against coeducative approaches but studies gender in a setting where the participants consciousness of gender issues was heightened faculty and administration were formally and informally discussing gender concepts and students were talking about male and female issues The book shows that the combination of leadership staff and curricular awareness and an understanding of gender fair and gender affirmative practices can serve to improve institutional effectiveness and lead to higher levels of student achievement

Flexible Pacing for Able Learners Neil Daniel, June Cox, 1988 The monograph describes the application of flexible pacing as a means of meeting the educational needs of gifted students in schools throughout the country Flexible pacing is defined as placing students at an appropriate instructional level and allowing them to move forward in the curriculum as they master content and skills Flexible pacing is achieved by such methods as continuous progress compacted course advanced level courses grade skipping early entrance concurrent or dual enrollment and credit by examination An introductory chapter looks at the historical and theoretical context of flexible pacing and gives a brief explanation of the canvassing and survey methods used to obtain data The next two chapters describe flexible pacing programs in 8 elementary and 11 secondary schools Chapter 5 looks at district wide programs for all students or all gifted students and finds six such school systems The next chapter examines cooperative programs between schools colleges or other educational institutions The seventh chapter discusses selected features of flexible pacing including school policy strategies of implementation staff selection development and record keeping A staff development program to prepare teachers for flexible pacing in mathematics is described in the eighth chapter contributed by Kathleen Martin The concluding chapter identifies principles of implementation including capitalizing on what is available initiating a program gradually and winning support The survey form and a sample program description are appended DB
