Cancer Program Practice Profile Reports (CP3R) Accountability Measures/Quality Improvement Measures

A requirement for Commission on Cancer (CoC) Accredited cancer programs is to monitor compliance with evidence-based treatment guidelines. In addition to performing site-specific studies to assess compliance with evidence-based national treatment guidelines, we are required to monitor compliance with evidence-based guidelines by utilization of the CoC quality reporting tools of the Cancer Program Practice Profile Reports (CP3R).

The cancer committee reviewed National Cancer Database (NCDB) benchmark reports for Beaumont for breast cancer and colon cancer stage and treatment. We are consistent with first course of treatment benchmarks comparing to both national and Michigan hospitals. Beaumont diagnoses and treats about 17% of breast cancer cases and about 10% of colorectal cases in Michigan. In order to best track the treatment process of our patients and position ourselves for commendable status with Commission on Cancer Rapid Quality Reporting System standards, we are analyzing breast and colorectal cases on a concurrent basis.

The CP3R has been implemented by the CoC for the purpose of fostering quality improvement at cancer programs awarded CoC Accreditation by utilization of quality of care measures. Facilitated by the National Quality Forum (NQF), CoC, American Society for Clinical Oncology (ASCO) and National Comprehensive Cancer Network (NCCN) agreed to synchronize their developed measures for breast and colorectal cancer to ensure that a unified set of quality of care measures were put forth to the public. Each year the cancer committee is required to review the quality of patient care using the CP3R to evaluate care within and across disciplines, to discuss successful processes and to evaluate how processes can be improved to promote evidence-based practice. An accountability measure is the standard of care based on clinical trial evidence. A quality improvement (QI) measure is one that demonstrates good practice but is not based on clinical trial evidence. In 2018, we evaluated issues with obtaining all first course of therapy information to comply with documentation for standards of care. We have made good progress in gaining access to ongoing treatment that takes place in our private practice physician's offices or that are referred elsewhere to complete their first course of therapy. For the CoC evaluation of accountability measures and quality improvement measures compared to other hospitals, Beaumont quality measure reports for breast cancer demonstrate a higher rate of compliance with standards of care for all accountability, quality improvement and surveillance measures compared to state, census region, American Cancer Society (ACS) division, CoC program type and all CoC programs. We demonstrated diagnosis of breast cancer cases at an earlier stage than in all hospitals in all states.
