The Art of Fiction James Salter, 2016-04-11 James Salter's exalted place in American letters is based largely on the intense admiration of other writers but his work resonates far beyond the realm of fellow craftsmen addressing themes youth war erotic love marriage life abroad friendship that speak to us all Following the publication of his first novel Salter left behind a military career of great promise to write full time and through decades of searching exacting work became one of American literature's master stylists Only months before he died at the age of eighty nine he agreed to serve as the first Kapnick Writer in Residence at the University of Virginia where he composed and delivered the three lectures presented in this book and introduced by his friend and fellow novelist National Book Award winning author John Casey Salter speaks to us here with an easy intimacy sharing his unceasing enchantment with the books that made up his reading life including works by Balzac Flaubert Babel whose prose is like a handful of radium Dreiser C line Faulkner These talks provide an invaluable opportunity to see the way in which a great writer reads They also offer a candid look at the writing life the rejection letters not one but two negative reviews in the New York Times for the same book writing in the morning or at night and worrying about money during the long afternoons Salter raises the question Why does one write For wealth For admiration or a sense of importance Confronting a blank sheet that always offers too many choices practicing a vocation that often demands one write instead of live the answer for Salter was creating a style that captured experience in a world where anything not written down fades away Kapnick Foundation Distinguished Writer in Residence Lectures

Don't Save Anything James Salter, 2018-11-13 In Don't Save Anything Kay Eldredge Salter assembles her late husband's bread and butter journalism yet how delicious good bread and butter can be As always Salter emphasizes simple vivifying details Michael Dirda The Washington Post One of the greatest writers of American sentences in our literary history James Salter's acute and glimmering portrayals of characters are built with a restrained and poetic style The author of several memorable works of fiction including Dusk and Other Stories which won the PEN Faulkner Award he is also celebrated for his memoir Burning the Days and many nonfiction essays In her preface Kay Eldredge Salter writes Don't Save Anything is a volume of the best of Jim's nonfiction articles published but never collected in one place until now. Though those many boxes were overflowing with papers, in the end it's not really a matter of quantity. These pieces reveal some of the breadth and depth of Jim's endless interest in the world and the people in it. One of the great pleasures in writing nonfiction is the writer's feeling of exploration of learning about things he doesn't know of finding out by reading and observing and asking questions and then writing it down. That's what you'll find here. This collection gathers Salter's thoughts on writing and profiles of important writers, observations of the changing American military life, evocations of Aspen winters, musings on mountain climbing and skiing, and tales of travels to Europe that first appeared in The New Yorker, Esquire, People, Condé Nast Traveler, the Aspen Times, among other publications.

A Sport and a Pastime James Salter, 2007. A Sport and a Pastime is an astonishing performance, the classic novel from a remarkable writer whose sentences bristle with a singular passion. Salter chronicles a love affair between a young shopgirl and an American college dropout against the backdrop of provincial France. The narrator's cool distillation of events, real or imagined, makes the book both lyrical and tightly, dangerously pitched.

Taking A Long Look Vivian Gornick, 2021-03-30. One of our most vital and incisive writers on literature, feminism, and knowing one's self. For nearly fifty years, Vivian Gornick's essays, written with her characteristic clarity of perception and vibrant prose, have explored feminism and writing, literature and culture, politics and personal experience. Drawing from the course of her career, Taking a Long Look illuminates one of the driving themes behind Gornick's work: that the painful process of understanding one's self is what binds us to the larger world. In these essays, Gornick explores the lives and literature of Alfred Kazin, Mary McCarthy, Diana Trilling, Philip Roth, Joan Didion, and Herman Melville; the cultural impact of Silent Spring and Uncle Tom's Cabin; and the characters you might only find in a New York barber shop or midtown bus terminal. Even more, Taking a Long Look brings back into print her incendiary essays first published in the Village Voice, championing the emergence of the women's liberation movement of the 1970s. Alternately crackling with urgency or lucid with insight, the essays in Taking a Long Look demonstrate one of America's most beloved critics at her best.
