particular grief that accompanies the longing to make a family Framed by her own desire for a child journalist Alexandra Kimball brilliantly reveals the pain and loneliness of infertility especially as a lifelong feminist Her experience of online infertility support groups where women gather in forums to discuss IVF surrogacy and isolation leaves her longing for a real life community of women working to break down the stigma of infertility In the tradition of Eula Biss's On Immunity and Barbara Ehrenreich's Bright Sided Kimball marries perceptive analysis with deep reportage her findings show the lie behind the prevailing and at times paradoxical cultural attitudes regarding women's right to actively choose to have children Braiding together feminist history memoir and reporting from the front lines of the battle for reproductive rights and technology The Seed plants in readers the desire for a world where no woman is made to feel that her biology is her destiny

Association SFRA Book Award 2022 Longlist Nominee for the Best Non Fiction Award from the British Science Fiction Association Equipping Space Cadets Primary Science Fiction for Young Children argues for the benefits and potential of primary science fiction or science fiction for children under twelve years old Science fiction for children is often disregarded due to common misconceptions of childhood When children are culturally portrayed as natural and simple they seem like a poor audience for the complex scientific questions brought up by the best science fiction. The books and the children who read them tell another story. Using three empirical studies and over 350 children's books including If I Had a Robot Dog, Bugs in Space and Commander Toad in Space, Equipping Space Cadets presents interdisciplinary evidence that science fiction and children are compatible after all. Primary science fiction literature includes many high quality books that cleverly utilize the features of children's literature formats in order to fit large science fiction questions into small packages. In the best of these books, authors make science fiction questions accessible and relevant to children of various reading levels and from diverse backgrounds and identities. Equipping Space Cadets does not stop with literary analysis but also presents the voices of real children and practitioners. The book features three studies: a survey of teachers and librarians, quantitative analysis of lending records from school libraries across the United States, and coded read aloud sessions with elementary school students. The results reveal how children are interested in and capable of reading science fiction, but it is the adults, including the most well intentioned librarians and teachers, who hinder children's engagement with the genre due to their own preconceptions about the genre and children.
