Morrison,2019 In the 1880s and 1890s Walter Besant was one of Britain s most lionized living novelists Today he is comparatively unknown Bringing together literary critics and book historians as well as social and cultural historians this volume provides a major reassessment of Besant All Sorts and Conditions of Men Walter Besant,1882 The New Nineteenth Century Barbara Leah Harman,Susan Meyer,2012-11-12 This book includes essays on writers from the 1840s to the 1890s well known writers such as Anne Bronte Wilkie Collins and Bram Stoker lesser known writers such as Geraldine Jewsbury Charles Reade Margaret Oliphant George Moore Sarah Grand and Mary Ward The contributors explore important thematic concerns the relation between private and public realms gender and social class sexuality and the marketplace and male and female cultural identity The New Woman Student in Fact and Fiction, 1880-1914 Laura

Rotunno,2025-09-30 This book explores the representation of the first generations of women who studied at Oxford and Cambridge in popular fiction of the late nineteenth and early twentieth century Familarly termed Girton Girls these women were depicted as intent on overthrowing the ancient universities and by extension English society This study argues that the powerful and influential vision of the Oxbridge woman was both exploited and expanded in novels of the time It shows that this fiction offers not only an informed critical view of this simultaneously anxiety ridden and intermittently hopeful period of English life between 1880 and 1914 but also reveals popular fiction s underexplored contribution to the move towards Modernist themes and literary techniques The book posits that the Girton Girl was not simply a bit part in the sub genre of the university novel or even within the confines of the New Woman fiction but rather her character was rich and malleable enough to animate a variety of plots that respond to readers burgeoning demands for the women who would inhabit their fiction Harper's New Monthly Magazine ,1883 Belgravia ,1889 Tradition and Tolerance in Nineteenth Century Fiction David Howard,John Lucas,John Goode,2016-08-05 First published in 1966 this book collects six essays which discuss the experience of social change as it reveals itself in the work of several nineteenth century novelists In the novels studied and the discussion of fiction that follows the authors argue that all these novelists attempts to confront social change to connect old with new past with present and the attempted inclusiveness of vision in a changing society sooner or later fail The essays are polemic in arguing against the contemporary critical consensus that this failure is a limitation of imaginative intelligence rather than an endorsement of a receding past which the process of change was charged with destroying

Victorian Metafiction Tabitha Sparks,2022-11-17 Critics agree in the abstract that metafiction refers to any novel that draws attention to its own fictional construction but metafiction has been largely associated with the postmodern era In this innovative new book Tabitha Sparks identifies a sustained pattern of metafiction in the Victorian novel that illuminates the art and intentions of its female practitioners From the mid nineteenth century through the fin de si cle novels by Victorian women such as Charlotte Bront Rhoda Broughton Charlotte Riddell Eliza Lynn Linton and several New Women authors share a common but underexamined trope the fictional characterization of the woman novelist or autobiographer Victorian Metafiction reveals how these novels systemically dispute the assumptions that women wrote primarily about their emotions or were restricted to trivial sentimental plots Countering an established tradition that has read novels by women writers as heavily autobiographical and confessional Sparks identifies the literary technique of metafiction in numerous novels by women writers and argues that women used metafictional self consciousness to draw the reader s attention to the book and not the novelist By dislodging the narrative from these cultural prescriptions Victorian Metafiction effectively argues how these women novelists presented the business and art of writing as the subject of the novel and wrote metafiction in order to establish their artistic integrity and professional authority Both Hands Before the Fire Spencer Wade,2013-06 Spencer Wade was born in March of 1888 into a mining family in the village of West Auckland situated in the Durham coalfields

Following the death of his father a deputy over man at the Townsend pit his family fell upon hard times Spencer his two brothers five sisters and their mother struggled to survive Eventually at the age of fourteen Spencer joined his brother Wilson down the pit of the local mines He like his siblings did his part After several years as a young miner Spencer's fate took a turn As the result of an interview with the Anglican bishop of Durham he was identified by as promising The young man was sent to Macclesfield Grammar School and then to Manchester University where he distinguished himself with a classical honours Degree Soon after he was ordained and went on to serve as a clerk in holy orders in over a dozen country parishes His career was punctuated with a number of interesting diversions and highlights as a young man he worked with William Temple on the Life and Liberty Movement he preached twice to King George V and he served as a chaplain in the RAF and for the High Sheriff of Northumberland Spencer Wade went home to the Lord in 1976 after a long and distinguished life of service to others This his autobiography offers erudite reflections of faith and a delightful and candid glimpse into the life of an ordinary country parson whose life was anything but ordinary Academy, with which are Incorporated Literature and the English Review ,1882
